Second of Promised
Moves To Strengthen
Prohibition Enforcement.TO MAKE JUSTICE
DEPARTMENT HEADSeeks Congressional Committee To Draft Necessary Laws for Removal of Authority.

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—President Hoover today took the second step in carrying out his law enforcement-observance program by recommending to congress the appointment of a joint committee of the house and senate to frame legislation transferring the major activities of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department.

Coincidentally, his recently created national law enforcement commission in its first hearing—a secret session—heard Secretary Mellon, upon whom the major responsibility for the enforcement of the Volstead and other dry laws now rests.

A demand for open hearings by the commission was made in the senate by Senator Hawes, democrat, Missouri, who asserted that secret hearings "will defeat the object of the commission; will destroy confidence in the thoroughness of its work or the impartiality of its conclusion."

Congressional leaders moved swiftly to carry out the recommendations the president submitted in a brief special message, which disclosed a comprehensive program for unification of federal agencies dealing with enforcement of the laws.

Jones Offers Resolution.
Senator Jones, republican, Washington, a leader of the drys, offered a resolution authorizing a joint committee of seven, three to be appointed by Vice President Curtis and four by Speaker Longworth.

The resolution was referred to the judiciary committee and Chairman Norris said it would be considered at the regular meeting next Monday. An early favorable report on the resolution is expected.

President Hoover outlined his reasons for appointment of the joint committee in this message, read in the house and sent by the clerks:

"To the congress of the United States:

"In order to secure the utmost expedition in the reorganization and concentration of responsibility in administration of the federal bureaus connected with prohibition enforcement so greatly needed to improve their effectiveness, I recommend that the congress appoint a joint committee to make an immediate study of these matters and to formulate recommendations for consideration at the next regular session.

"I shall be glad to appoint a committee from the departments to co-operate with such a committee of the congress. The national commission on law observance and enforcement will also co-operate through their studies of the departmental organization.

Requires Consideration.
The subject involves the transfer of parts of various bureaus and agencies from certain departments to others and it includes as well the necessity for the unification and strengthening of our border patrols both in connection with prohibition and illegal entry of aliens. The question embraces numerous laws and regulations in several bureaus, and will require extensive consideration which is given jointly by such committees of the congress and the departments prior to the regular session will save many months of delay."

Administration officials explained the president regarded unification of the enforcement agencies as highly important, and that he had asked congress to name a joint committee at this time so that a program can be made ready for consideration by congress.

SAYS IRATE WIFE
MURDERED RIVALMrs. Cassler Shot Girl or
Caused Her To Be Slain,
Because of Jealousy,
Says Indiana Verdict.

Valparaiso, Ind., June 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Catherine Cassler, of Chicago, was charged in a coroner's verdict, announced here tonight, with having fatally shot Miss Camella Soutar, whose body was found near Hebron, Ind., Dec. 24, 1928.

E. H. Miller, county coroner, wrote his verdict too late for filing with clerk of the circuit. He said he might withhold filing it for several days.

The coroner, who indicated earlier in the day he might charge Eddie Cassler, 39, foster son of Mrs. Cassler, with being an accessory to the alleged murder, said he believed the young man knew more about the case than he pretended but there was nothing at present to call for his being named in his finding.

Coroner Miller, in the report of his investigations, found that the Soutar girl, with whom Truman Cassler, husband of the accused woman, admitted to being intimate, had been killed "by a gunshot wound through the heart."

Caused By Woman.
"I do further find that said gunshot wound was caused by a weapon in the hand of one Catherine Cassler, or her agents, whose names are unknown," the verdict continued. Mrs. Cassler was ordered remanded into the custody of the sheriff to await the action of the county grand jury of Porter county.

Mrs. Cassler is scheduled to be granted a hearing in a justice court here tomorrow afternoon on an affidavit obtained by Sheriff Burney Maxwell, a Chicago professional skater, with first degree murder. The justice court may dismiss the affidavit or certify the woman to the circuit court to be held for trial.

Talking informally, Coroner Miller said tonight he believed the Cassler boy knew what part his mother's role played in the murder of the Soutar girl. He added that he did not believe the boy was present at the time the girl, a former Chicago professional roller skater, was slain, but that he might have had a part in the disposal of the body.

Held in Jail.
Truman Cassler, the father and husband, young Cassler and Chester Johnson, a Chicago professional skater, have been held in jail here since last Tuesday, under bonds of $3,000 as material witnesses. The elder Cassler, who was a truck driver in Chicago, said earlier in the week that Miss Soutar lived at his house a part of the time of her execution and was released last April 30 when the state dismissed the case.

Cassler obtained a new trial on the eve of her execution and was released last April 30 when the state dismissed the case.

LAVA WALL SLOWS
FAMILIES RETURN TO THEIR HOMES

Naples, June 6.—(AP)—Dozens of families returned tentatively to their abandoned homes in the village of Terzigno and the surrounding district this afternoon on publication of reassuring news from the Mount Vesuvius observatory that the flow of lava which the great volcano has been sending down since Monday has been decidedly diminished.

The huge wall of lava halted just outside Terzigno and the inhabitants believe that Saint Gennaro, patron of Naples, intervened to stop it.

Earth shocks accompanied the volcanic explosions this morning but soon died down. Investigation then showed that the lava pools were rapidly cooling.

Hot Fight in Senate.HOUSE TO PASS
MEASURE QUICKLYHalf Billion Revolving Fund To Be Made Available Immediately, Is Opinion of Leaders.

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—A final determination of the major problem which led to the calling of the special session will be undertaken tomorrow when the senate and house will be asked to approve the farm relief bill decided upon by a conference committee composed of members from both branches of congress.

The committee's report embraces a compromise between the bills passed separately by the senate and house. It will be laid before the latter branch shortly after it convenes by the chairman of its agriculture committee, Representative Haugen, of Iowa.

Soon after the house approves the conference bill, which it is expected to do with little debate, the report will be sent to the senate and Senator McNary, of Oregon, chairman of the agriculture committee, will ask immediate consideration.

Senate May Hold Up Bill.
Whether the farm bill may be sent to President Hoover this week depends on advocates of the export debenture plan, which was forced from the measure by implacable opposition of the house conferees. Debenture proponents in the senate are expected to express their disappointment and to appear tonight as if considerable debate was in prospect.

Administration leaders were convinced, nevertheless, that the relief bill, calling for an appropriation of a half billion dollars to stabilize agriculture, would ultimately be accepted by the senate and placed in the president's hands for his approval well before the middle of next week.

Presentation of the conference bill disclosed the wording of the section relating to the revolving fund to be used by the proposed farm board. Most of the farm leaders expressed the opinion that the section would require Mr. Hoover to send an estimate for the appropriation of the entire $500,000,000 to congress immediately. The new section says:

"There is hereby authorized to be appropriated the sum of $500,000,000 which shall be made available by the congress as soon as practicable after the approval of this act and shall constitute a revolving fund to be administered by the board as provided in this act."

Some leaders had thought that the president, upon the recommendation of the department of agriculture, might ask at first for only one or two and at the most three hundred millions, but most of them felt that the present section would require the full authorization to be appropriated. Interest also was manifested in the compromise section respecting the function of a stabilization corporation, to which all of the major farm organizations and many co-operatives attach importance. The section reads:

"Any stabilization corporation for an agricultural commodity (1) may act as a marketing agency for its stockholders or members in preparing, handling, storing, processing, and merchandising for their account any quantity of the agricultural commodity or its food products, and (2) for the purpose of controlling any surplus in the commodity, in pursuance of the declaration of 'they set forth in this act, may purchase, handle, store, process, and merchandise, otherwise than for the account of its stockholders or members, any quantity of the agricultural commodity or its food products, whether or not such commodity or products are acquired from its stockholders or members."

Farmers holding stock in stabilization corporations will be exempted specifically from any assessments made in the event a loss is incurred in surplus control operations of a stabilization corporation.

WORLD'S RICHEST
BORROWS PENNY
TO BUY STAMP

Atlantic City, N. J., June 6.—(AP)—Henry Ford, owner of millions, borrowed two cents today in order to buy the first Thomas A. Edison commemorative stamp at a special post-office established in front of the convention hall.

Postmaster Alfred Perkins was behind the counter. As he handed the first stamp to be sold here to Ford, the motor magnate searched in vain through his pockets for the two cents. J. F. Quinlan, of New York, came to his rescue.

"Thanks," said Ford, accepting the proffered change. "I'll see that you get it back." Ford handed the two pennies to Mayor Ruffo, who retained them as souvenirs.

Hollywood, Cal., June 6.—(AP)—Motion picture producers, after a conference that ended early today, virtually defied the Actor's Equity Association. A statement issued by Cecil B. De Mille, president of the Motion Picture Association, said the producers would not agree to the order promulgated yesterday by Equity that members may not engage in sound or talking pictures except under standard Equity contracts.

Frank Gilmore, president of Equity, had declared that only under the form of contract adopted by his organization would members of Equity be permitted to engage in sound and talking picture productions. The ruling was effective immediately, it was said.

"We will continue to engage artists for our productions only under the fair and just form of contract, which was approved by representatives of both producer and motion picture actors. We decline to be restricted as to the source of our talent."

The declaration of Gilmore, it was pointed out by several producers, would have the effect of practically making every producing concern operate under a "closed shop" arrangement. Gilmore had declared that Equity members henceforth would not be permitted to engage in any pictures where non-member players were employed.

LEGISLATOR PLANS
FIGHT ON PRINTERLuther H. Still To Launch
Probe of Alleged Poor
Work of Stein Printing Company.

Investigation of the manner in which the Stein Printing Company, of Atlanta, has carried out its contract with the state of Georgia to print copies of the house and senate journals, the acts of the legislature and other state documents, will be launched by Luther H. Still, representative in the legislature from Fulton county, and a member of the Atlanta Typographical union, it was announced following a conference held by Mr. Still Thursday with George H. Carswell, chairman of the state printing commission.

Mr. Still carried copies of the house and senate journals and the laws of 1927 to the capital Thursday and claimed that there were more than 5,000 errors in the three volumes. He also furnished other evidence to Chairman Carswell in connection with the work turned out by the Stein company, he said, and announced that he would ask the printing commission to refuse to permit this company to make any other bids on state printing. Further, Mr. Still said he would seek some action in the legislature which would force the firm to do the entire job of printing over again.

"The class of work turned in by the Stein company is the worst kind of botchery, and it bidders are permitted to sell such incompetent work to the state of Georgia no reputable firm of printers will care to submit bids on state printing," Mr. Still said. "It would not be fair to have reputable firms bid on jobs and then allow a firm with such a record as its present printing record enter into competition against such reputable firms."

Chairman Carswell examined the volumes placed before him by Mr. Still and announced that he was willing to co-operate in an investigation of the situation which would bring out all facts concerning the kind of printing that has been turned over to the state under the Stein contract.

Mr. Still is a proof reader by profession and while reading a copy of the house journal said he noticed several errors in the printing. He continued to peruse the work and noticed dozens of errors, some of them of the most glaring kind, on many of the pages, he said. He began a check of the work and found more than 5,000 errors, he told Mr. Carswell. With him in the work of checking were Victor C. Perry, also a proof reader, and Steve Nance, a newspaper man, and they accompanied Mr. Still to the office of Chairman Carswell Thursday.

BAPTIST DEACONS
FACE EXPULSION
ON HERESY CHARGEPaducah Church Is Torn by Internal Strife as Faction Resents "Czar" Preacher.

Paducah, Ky., June 6.—(AP)—Forces supporting and opposed to the pastor of the First Baptist church, the Rev. D. B. Clapp, were preparing for a test of strength today following the filing last night of charges of heresy and "un-Christian conduct" against eight deacons and 47 members.

The charges were brought at a business meeting of the congregation by the Rev. H. C. Hopewell, a member of the church, but no action was taken because of a tangle on procedure. In a debate of more than an hour an effort was defeated to unseat the pastor as moderator, and he was referred to as a "czar."

The split in the church, which is one of the largest in the city, with a membership of 1,200, dates back three months when five members of the church were expelled for dancing and "worldliness." At a subsequent congregational meeting, the expulsion was rescinded by an overwhelming vote, but five voted against rescinding, and the expulsions were required and that the expulsions stood.

Rev. Mr. Clapp has been pastor seven years. He came here from Texas.

LINDY AND ANNE NO LONGER
TRY TO ESCAPE DETECTIONColonel Charles A. Lindbergh, presumably accompanied by his bride of two weeks, the former Anne Morrow, was off the Maine coast tonight in the "honey moon boat" Mouette.

H. M. Philbrick, proprietor of a fish company here, said he recognized the famous aviator and much-sought benefactor when he tied his cabin cruiser up at his wharf this evening.

"Yes and no" was about all Philbrick was able to get out of the tall young man in the way of conversation.

Lindbergh took on a supply of gasoline, fresh water and ice sufficient to run him to North Haven, where the summer home of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow is located.

Lindbergh was the only person Philbrick saw about the boat but he said Mrs. Lindbergh could easily have kept out of sight in the cabin.

Philbrick said Lindbergh told him the cruiser was a "good boat" after he had complimented him on its appearance.

The Mouette put into Cape Porpoise, near Kennebunkport, and anchored for the night a quarter mile off shore, not far from Goat island lighthouse.

Two Kennebunkport young men, Jack Heavey and John Martia, who were cruising about the harbor, looked over the craft and talked with Colonel Lindbergh. Lifting the canvas which concealed the name, they said they read it plainly.

Lindbergh just then appeared on deck. They said they recognized and saluted him, inquiring if they could assist him in any way. After thanking them for their offer, he said he would leave them alone, as there was nothing they could do. They bid him "good night."

Occupants of a boat which rowed out said they saw a woman and two men. The woman, they said, turned out the cabin light as they approached.

LINDY IS WARNED HE MAY GET SHOT.
Boston, June 6.—From the coast guard comes a warning to the honey-mooning colonel, to-wit, if it is true that Lindbergh has been covering up the name of his boat, he may be shot at as a suspected run runner.

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—Social Washington was pondering tonight over its latest question on diplomatic liquor—whether the British embassy will or will not be dry.

The situation took on an air of mystery after attaches of the embassy described published reports that Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, had decided to import no more liquor as "not entirely accurate." They declined to indicate the discrepancies in the accounts and refused to comment in any way.

It is known, however, that liquor has been served at the embassy since the ambassador recently expressed his willingness to try up the embassy if the American government desired.

Comment was evoked at the state department and on the floor of the senate for the first time today on the situation created by the ambassador's recent statement on the diplomatic liquor question.

Secretary Stimson said the ambassador had informed him that he contemplated giving up the privilege of importing diplomatically immunities. The information, the secretary said, was imparted to him after the ambassador's recent statement that he would be willing to abolish liquor imports for the embassy if the American government requested that he do so.

Mr. Stimson said, however, he had informed the ambassador the question was one wholly of diplomatic immunity and privilege and that the American government did not wish to narrow or infringe the importation rights.

Senator Blewett, democrat, South Carolina, who is author of several measures designed to dry up the foreign missions in Washington, told the senate he approved the action Sir Esme was contemplating.

"I take my hat off and bow to him," he said.

Chicago, June 6.—(United News)—A hopeless love for a married man which meant "more than anything in the world," to her, caused Miss Barbara Cole, former Folies-belle girl and reputed daughter of a British diplomat, to leap to her death from an apartment window, authorities learned today.

Shortly after she had phoned a switchboard operator that she was going to leap out of the window on the twelfth floor, her body was found on the street below. A note in her room read:

Page, a La Salle street broker, was said by police to have met Miss Cole when she was playing in the "Rose Marie" company. A subpoena was issued the broker when he could not be located after having told authorities that his attorney had attempted to make a settlement with the girl.

Miss Cole, it was learned, was divorced three years ago from William Biddle, son of a New York tobacco magnate. Their two children now are with her father, Robert Cole, said to be assigned to British diplomatic service in Norway.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, June 6.—Through the operation of a well oiled steam roller house leaders today managed to save from almost certain defeat the combined reapportionment census bill, which had been threatened with disaster by the two highly controversial amendments excluding all aliens and non-voting negroes as a basis of the next congressional apportionment.

Although the session started out in a fever of excitement with the fate of the bill still in doubt, it did not take long to reveal that leaders had the situation well in hand, and before the final gong of adjournment sounded late today the house had passed, by a vote of 272 to 105, the long-delayed measure, minus the two controversial provisions.

South and East Pacific.
In consequence, southern democrats tonight found the tension somewhat relieved between them and eastern members of the party who had joined with middle western elements in threatening to overthrow the Tinkham amendment, contemplating a substantial repudiation in southern congressional representation on account of statutes seeking to overcome disfranchisement provisions of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. With the Tinkham amendment, which excluded non-voting negroes as a basis of the next congressional apportionment, the bill still in doubt, it did not take long to reveal that leaders had the situation well in hand, and before the final gong of adjournment sounded late today the house had passed, by a vote of 272 to 105, the long-delayed measure, minus the two controversial provisions.

To majority Leader Tilson, of Connecticut, is due most of the credit for ironing out a situation which at first threatened to become one of the most involved witnessed at the capital in many years. Facing a storm of protests on both sides, he gathered together the loose strands of the shattered bill and by employing a series of questionable but practical parliamentary tactics succeeded in bringing order out of chaos.

Substitutes New Bill.
The Tilson coup took the form of an amendment substituting a new bill for the overburdened measure under consideration. It contained the same general provisions as the other except those relating to non-voting negroes and alien exclusion. Trained parliamentarians of the house were of the opinion that the amendment was in violation of the rules of the chamber, but Representative Chindblom, of Minnesota, declared that it was not.

Tobacco Merger Involving Several Hundred Millions Reported Planned in Street

Duke and Thomas Fortune Ryan Interests To Join With Other Large Companies.

New York, June 6.—(AP)—A several-hundred-million-dollar tobacco merger bringing together the Duke and Thomas Fortune Ryan interests was reported under way today in Wall Street.

United Cigar Stores Company of America, Union Tobacco Company and Tobacco Products Corporation, worth $250,000,000 at present market values, are to be brought together under one company—Tobacco and Drug, Inc.—according to the report.

Tobacco and Drug, Inc., is to be incorporated in Delaware as a holding company and the merger is to be effected through an exchange of stock. Other large companies are to be taken in later, American and Canadian financiers comprise the organizing group.

George J. Whelan, founder and dominating force in United Cigar Stores, Union Tobacco and Tobacco Products, is understood to be desirous of relinquishing some of his duties.

Peace Is Aim.
The merger is aimed to bring peace to the industry, which has been torn for nearly the last two years by bitter price wars between manufacturers and between store owners. One of the most serious conditions is said to be the recent inauguration of cut-rate cigarette prices by the United and Schutte Chain Stores.

Conditions, it is claimed, have gone from bad to worse with the death in the past year of the industry's two biggest figures—Ryan and James B. Duke. Death was said to have interrupted their plans for peace. Part of their vast holdings are to be taken over by the new company.

Controls Stores.
Tobacco Products controls United Cigar Stores. In 1923 it sold manufacturing rights to American Tobacco Company and leased brands to that company for 99 years, at an annual payment of $2,500,000. A substantial interest is held in Stephens Brothers, cigarette manufacturers, and Happiness Candy Stores.

United Tobacco Company, organized in 1927 in Delaware, manufactures several brands of cigarettes and tobacco and holds the rights to make a number of American Tobacco Company's cigarette brands.

Mr. Whelan, who died in Syracuse, in 1935, has spent practically his entire life in the tobacco industry. With his brother, C. A. Whelan, president of United Cigar Stores, he started in the wholesale cigar business in Syracuse. In 1901 they organized the United Cigar Stores.

OFFICER INJURED WHILE CHASING SPEEDING AUTO
Struck from his motor while in pursuit of a speeding automobile, Motorcycle Officer J. T. Thrasher early Thursday night suffered a double fracture of the left leg and a head injury which doctors say may prove serious.

According to police reports, Officer Thrasher was going east on Fair street, attempting to catch a speeding motorist, when, near the intersection of Fair and Tye streets, his motorcycle was sideswiped by the left front wheel of an automobile being driven west on Fair street by E. J. Roach, of 504 Wabash street.

The injured officer was taken to Grady hospital by a passing motorist. Roach went to headquarters with Call Officers Higgins and Cartwright and was released on a copy of charges for reckless driving. Roach told the investigating officers that the accident was unavoidable.

C. H. McCall Dies At New York Home; Last Rites Here
C. H. McCall, 56, a former resident of Atlanta, died Wednesday at his home in New York. He had been in failing health for some time.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Saturday morning from Spring Hill chapel here. The Rev. L. R. Christie will officiate. The body will be taken to LaGrange for interment.

Mr. McCall is survived by his widow; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McCall, and three sisters, Mrs. Edward Cauthon, Mrs. Lou Leary and Mrs. E. H. Daniel.

JUDGE HUTCHESON PRAISES EXAMPLE OF COL. SAM TATE
Decatur, Ga., June 6.—(Special.) Pleading with the DeKalb county grand jury for better law enforcement, Judge John E. Hutcheson today pointed to Col. Sam Tate, an example of proper prohibition enforcement, and attributed this record to the "influence and example of Colonel Sam Tate, now chairman of the state highway board."

"Law enforcement is largely dependent upon public opinion," Judge Hutcheson said in his charge to the jury. "and in DeKalb county the example of this one great and good man has been sufficient to create a very strong sentiment in favor of law enforcement and law observance."

A. B. & C. Railroad Officers in Annual Traffic Meeting
The annual traffic meeting of the Atlanta, Birmingham & Coast railroad was held Thursday at the Henry Grady hotel with C. B. Keefe, freight traffic manager, presiding.

Favorable reports on business prospects and discussion of industrial and agricultural development in the sections traversed by the road occupied the greater portion of the time. Staff officers, freight traffic representatives and employees from various points attended the sessions.

Heath Is Appointed Assistant Secretary Of the U. S. Treasury
Washington, June 6.—(AP)—President Hoover has appointed F. K. Heath, of Grand Rapids, Mich., assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of public buildings, to succeed Carl T. Schenck, who has resigned.

The appointment was announced today at the White House. Mr. Heath, connected with a steamship company operating on the Great Lakes, was active in Mr. Hoover's pre-convention campaign and served in republican headquarters at Chicago during the regular campaign. He was a member of Mr. Hoover's relief organization after the World War, being stationed in Finland.

Mr. Schenck, who is from St. Paul, Minn., tendered his resignation with other presidential appointees at the outset of the Hoover administration, with a request that he be relieved from duty. President Hoover asked him, however, to remain at his post until a successor could be chosen, and in this he acquiesced.

Another change expected in the treasury executive force is the resignation of Henry Herick Bond, of Boston, assistant in charge of fiscal affairs in the internal revenue bureau. He has wished to retire to private life for some time but has consented to remain temporarily at the request of Secretary Mellon.

SHRINERS PLEDGE AID IN HOOVER LAW DRIVE

Hearty Support Promised. Officers of Organization Retain Posts.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 6.—(AP)—After pledging "hearty support" to the law enforcement program of President Hoover and installing George V. Youngworth, of Los Angeles, as imperial potentate, the 1936 Shrine convention ended here today.

Selection of a city for next year's convention was temporarily deferred when the imperial council decided that the list of invitations was insufficient. The selection will be left to the imperial potentate and the local advisory committee. The imperial council announced that New Orleans and Toronto, Canada, were definitely under consideration as possible 1937 convention cities, but that no decision would be made for a matter of 30 days.

In a telegram to President Hoover, the imperial council said: "The 600,000 nobles of this order are all devoted citizens, true to their constitution and loyal to the country's cooperation we trust may be most helpful to you in your efforts to re-establish a wholesome respect for law and order."

BRITISH CABINET MEMBERS HUNT NEW OCCUPATIONS
London, June 6.—(AP)—Members of the British conservative government, soon to be relieved of their national administrative cares, have been casting about for new occupations.

The Daily Mail today said Stanley Baldwin, retiring prime minister, intended to start playing tennis again and had bought a second-hand tennis racket from a friend.

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, according to the paper, probably will engage in financial business and will consider offers of a directorate of a bank or insurance company. He also has signed contracts for journalistic efforts and has undertaken to write a complete history of his ancestor, the Duke of Marlborough.

Meanwhile, the paper said, he will be kept busy clearing the mud from a stream on his country estate.

Clouds To Hide Old Sol Today; Rain Predicted

Large flocks of clouds will hide the beaming countenance of Old Sol today and these same clouds in all probability will cut loose with a bit of precipitation during the afternoon, according to the official forecast of the local weather bureau.

Little change in temperature is foreseen as the result of this disturbance but the trend will continue to be upward, it is thought. The mercury Thursday climbed from a bottom figure of 65 up to 80 and is expected to repeat this performance today.

EDISON SPEAKS FROM FLORIDA TO THRONG
Atlantic City, N. J., June 6.—(AP)—Although still at his home near Fort Myers, Fla., Thomas A. Edison delivered a personal message to a throng that jammed every available inch of space in the mammoth ballroom of Atlantic City's new auditorium today.

The day was set aside as "Edison day." Mr. Edison appeared through the medium of a movie film, which pictured him as strong, active and smiling, and which transmitted his message in a voice firm and clear to the delegates, members and guests of the National Electric Light Association, gathered in convention to do honor to the founder of the electrical industry.

Mr. Edison said: "When I invented the incandescent lamp, I realized that the lamp alone was not enough. It was necessary also to perfect a system of electric generation and distribution. I immediately set about to develop it, and

CLARKSON COLLEGE FACULTY MEMBERS FIRED, REVEALED

Dismissal of two members of the faculty of Clarkson College of Technology 'for insubordination' together with the resignation of a third professor as a protest became known today.

Potsdam, N. Y., June 6.—(AP)—Dismissal of two members of the faculty of Clarkson College of Technology "for insubordination" together with the resignation of a third professor as a protest became known today, following a mass meeting of students last night to frame a formal protest to the board of trustees.

Those ousted were Professor Lynn L. Merrill, who has been at Clarkson nine years, and Professor George B. Lobdell, who has been there 13 years. Professor Crockery, with six years service, resigned because of what he considered unfair treatment of his colleagues, and Mrs. Flora Laidler, secretary to President Joseph Eugene Rowe, resigned for the same reason.

Professor Merrill and Professor Lobdell were dismissed upon the recommendation of President Rowe, from whom they had been removed from the faculty of Clarkson a year ago from William and Mary college, as a result of controversy over his abolition of student self government.

Specifically, they were charged by the president with inciting opposition against him.

The dismissals aroused the student body and the meeting on the campus was attended practically by all the undergraduates.

PATRICK WALKER DIES AT HOSPITAL; ILL FOR MONTHS
Patrick H. Walker, 26, assistant city clerk of Decatur, died Thursday morning at a private hospital, following an illness of several months.

He is survived by his widow; a daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Walker; four brothers, Stokes, Roy, Frank and James Walker; three sisters, Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Mrs. Floyd Walden and Miss Mitzi Walker, and his mother, Mrs. J. H. Walker.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by A. S. Turner.

asked Nation to compare the 4 leading Cigarettes

Here are the first returns, just as received—and as audited by certified public accountants

Every Tuesday night, over the Columbia network, Paul Whiteman's orchestra thrills the radio world with dance music, played as only Whiteman can play it.

OLD GOLD sponsors this radio hour. But strangely enough, not once during the hour has the claim ever been made that OLD GOLD is the best of all cigarettes!

Instead, just a moment is borrowed from Whiteman's music to ask smokers to find out for themselves which cigarette is best, by making the "concealed name" test, in their own homes.

To date, through the courtesy of radio fans, reports have been received on the verdicts of 17,972 smokers who have made this test.

Did OLD GOLD win in all cases? Assuredly not! Brands X, Y & Z, the long-established trio, made a good showing. They're good cigarettes. But once again, OLD GOLD, the two-year old, proved that this is the day of the new and better thing!

No cigarette-maker can justifiably say that his cigarette is the best for everyone. Tastes differ. Why not let your taste decide which cigarette you like best . . . with all brand prejudice removed?

That's what these 17,972 radio fans did. At left is the box score of their vote . . . as audited by a firm of certified public accountants.

MRS. MOORE SAYS SHE FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN NOW

"I Can Never Find Words To Express My Gratitude to Sargon," She Declares.

"When I say I was sick, weak and run-down for nineteen years that doesn't describe the serious condition of my health, for I seemed to grow considerably worse the past twelve months. I tried just about every medicine but they did me little, if any, good. Then I started the Sargon treatment and it increased my weight nine pounds and restored my health.

MRS. LIZZIE MOORE.

"All my trouble started with a disordered stomach. Such gases, pains and sourness would come on after meals, and I felt so sick and wretched that life was simply miserable. I kept thinking that surely there was something I could do to get relief, but the more medicine I took, the more discouraged I became. Constipation added to my troubles and my whole system seemed to be poisoned. Bilious headaches would last sometimes for two or three days. And my head would hurt so I could hardly see. Hot flushes and dizziness would come on, and I was frequently very unsteady. And how my back hurt me! The pain was so severe sometimes at night that I could hardly turn over. My nerves seemed to go to pieces entirely and there were times when I would be almost hysterical. I seldom went to sleep before one or two o'clock in the morning. I lost weight rapidly, and I look back now and honestly wonder how I ever lived."

"I don't believe I could ever find words to express the gratitude I feel for all Sargon did for me. Why, before I had finished the first bottle I was enjoying my food, everything agreed with me, and I began feeling like a different woman. I have taken seven bottles now, and I hardly know myself. My nervousness is over, I enjoy such wonderful sleep and get up so strong and energetic that I can scarcely realize it is true. The pains in my back are gone, and so are the headaches, and every other ache and pain. I feel almost as if I had been made all over again."

"For the first time in years, my constipation is ended, and I give Sargon Soft Mass Pills all the credit. They stimulated my liver, ended my biliousness, and rid my system of poisons. They are mild but certain, and so different from the drastic laxatives that I had taken before."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Lizzie Moore, a highly esteemed resident of 417 Formwalt St., Atlanta.

Hundreds are daily calling on the special Sargon representative at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta St., to learn more about this remarkable new medicine. Sargon may also be obtained at all Jacobs' drug stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

JUDGE TO DECIDE
FIGHT FOR CHURCH
CONTROL SATURDAY

Superior Court Judge John D. Humphries announced Thursday that he would hear a petition for a permanent injunction to decide which of two boards of deacons should rule the affairs of the Cameron Avenue Baptist church Saturday morning. The suit involves the effort of a number of members of the congregation to oust the pastor, the Rev. J. J. Wilkins, whom they accuse of trying to inject "holier" doctrines into the church.

ONLY 7,000 CARS
OF PEACHES SEEN
FOR THIS STATE

The Georgia peach crop this season will be no larger than 7,000 cars, according to an estimate made Thursday by Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, which is about one-half the size of the crop last season. Heavy storms in the early spring destroyed much of the crop, while thousands of trees have been cut down in the fight against the phony peach disease.

MOHAWK RED MEN TO NAME OFFICERS FOR YEAR TONIGHT

Election of officers will feature the 45th semi-annual business meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight of the Mohawk Tribe No. 5, Improved Order of Red Men. The meeting will be held at the wigwam, 160 Central avenue. A number of candidates will be initiated. The degree under direction of G. F. Barrett, a past great sachem, will be conferred in full dramatic form.

WILLIS A. SUTTON TO SPEAK SUNDAY
AT CEDAR GROVE

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of the Atlanta public schools, will be principal speaker Sunday morning at the Children's Day exercises at Cedar Grove church, three miles from Conley. Rev. R. C. Huston will speak in the afternoon. For 60 years, the second Sunday in June has been set aside as Children's Day and farmers bring their families for miles around. The little church is said to be one of the oldest landmarks in DeKalb county. H. DuBose Moore, prominent DeKalb farmer and superintendent of the Sunday school, has arranged with the church ladies to have plenty of fried chicken and lemonade for all, and a large crowd is expected. A chorus and brass band will furnish music. The Rev. Mr. Lynch is pastor of the church. Many Atlantans attend regularly including Ernest C. Bell, Ralph G. Taylor, Elmo Moore, Mac Morris, H. S. Steele, ex-Mayor James L. Key, T. Walter Moore and many others.

PLANE FOR MAIL TEST IS DAMAGED WHILE LANDING

Keyport, N. J., June 6.—(P)—The huge Burnelli monoplane which was to have been used in a ship-to-shore mail pick-up from the deck of the Leviathan at sea tomorrow, was damaged in a ground test today. The plane struck an obstruction while taxiing on the field, its right wing being damaged. George R. Pond, the pilot, escaped injury. Local associates of P. W. Chapman, owner of the plane, said the damage was not great, but repairs could not be completed in time for the experiment tomorrow. Inquiries were made at Newark metropolitan airport as to the availability of an amphibian plane for the experiment.

ARRESTED IN SLAYING, ESCAPES FROM BOAT

Radio Operator Nabbed for Killing Woman Gets Out of Cabin.

San Francisco, June 6.—(P)—William Tallman, young radio operator, arrested Tuesday on board the steamship Admiral Benson on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Virginia Patty at Los Angeles, was missing when the vessel docked here last night.

Investigation showed that the accused man had unscrewed the lock on his stateroom door with a piece of iron torn from a radiator. Not knowing the prisoner had fled, Captain Martin Shost placed a guard on duty outside the door.

Police believe Tallman either jumped overboard and swam ashore or walked down the gangplank before his disappearance was discovered.

After the discovery of Mrs. Patty's body in the closet of a Los Angeles apartment, alleged to have been rented by Tallman, police learned he was aboard the Admiral Benson en route from Los Angeles to this city. His arrest on a murder charge was ordered by radio. Tallman denied any knowledge of the crime. Last night shortly before 9 o'clock he remarked to his guest, Chief Steward Albert Russell, "I guess I had better go and spruce up for the reception committee."

He was last seen in the stateroom quarters on his way to his stateroom. Police believe he obtained the aid of a confederate to escape.

FIND NARCOTICS IN APARTMENT

Los Angeles, June 6.—(P)—With discovery of narcotics in the apartment of Mrs. Virginia Patty, slain wife of a Portland, Ore., investment broker, police today pursued a new line of investigation in the affairs of the comely 28-year-old woman.

Mrs. Patty's battered body was discovered Tuesday morning in the closet of a rooming house, in a section of the city far from the exclusive district where she had maintained her residence.

The finding of narcotics in Mrs. Patty's apartment seemed to the police to bear out an expected suspicion of her husband, Frank Patty, a broker of Portland, Ore., that his wife had become addicted to the use of stimulants. He had previously told police of his wife's ill health.

ONE DROWNS WHEN PLANE PLUNGES INTO POTOMAC

Alexandria, Va., June 6.—(United News).—One man was drowned when a civilian plane carrying six other passengers plunged into the Potomac near here today.

E. G. Biron, naval machinist's mate attached to the Anacostia naval station, was drowned. The six other passengers were rescued by a tugboat.

The plane, a Flamingo, had come here the first part of the week from Cincinnati and was being tested after repairs. Engine trouble was blamed for the plunge.

PULLMAN COMPANY GRANTS INCREASE IN WAGES OF HELP

Chicago, June 6.—(P)—A wage increase of $5 per month and certain improvements in working conditions have been granted to 12,000 porters and maids by the Pullman Company, a company announcement today said.

SEEK TO RECOVER 'PLOT' INSURANCE

Relatives of Alleged "Insurance Plot" Victim May Sue Estate of Landlady.

Macon, Ga., June 6.—(P)—Relatives of Sam B. Wright, whose name has appeared as one of the victims of an "insurance death" plot of Mrs. J. C. Powers, 71, nearly a decade ago, will make an effort to recover from Mrs. Powers' estate approximately $5,000 insurance collected on the man's life, it was learned today.

Solicitor Charles H. Garrett, of the Macon circuit, received a letter from Wright's brother-in-law, A. S. Thomas, of Monroe, N. C., asking for advice as to methods of procedure. Mr. Thomas said that Wright's mother, Mrs. J. L. Whitley, an aged woman, lived in his home.

Wright, who lived for some time with Mrs. Powers, died on December 3, 1919. It is known that Mrs. Powers collected $5,032 from one company on the death. Other insurance totaling approximately $4,500 is said to have been paid to her as a result of Wright's death.

Mr. Thomas said in his letter to Mr. Garrett that Mrs. Powers knew Wright had relatives, and knew their names and addresses, but failed to notify any of them of the death. It was at least six months, the letter said, before the man's mother knew he was dead. None of the insurance money went to the mother. Just what action will be taken against the estate of Mrs. Powers is not known.

Solicitor Garrett today appealed for 76 young men of Macon and surrounding territory who responded to an advertisement more than a month ago in which Mrs. J. C. Powers, 71-year-old woman indicted for the murder of James W. Parks, sought some one "to become a member of the family."

Mrs. Powers has stated that she received 78 responses to the advertisement. Earl Manchester, who has confessed that he killed Parks on a promise from Mrs. Powers that he would receive $1,000 of $14,000 insurance that Mrs. Powers held on the life of Parks, was one of those who responded to the ad. Parks was another who responded. Mr. Garrett said that there are 76 others with whom he would like to talk before Mrs. Powers goes on trial.

Under the Georgia law, Manchester will go on trial first, he being the principal in the murder. No lawyer has been assigned by the court to represent Manchester, but it is expected that Judge H. A. Mathews will appoint one on Saturday. E. W. Maynard is representing Mrs. Powers.

EUGENE O'NEILL SAID TO BE ILL WITH TUBERCULOSIS

London, June 6.—(P)—The London Daily Express today said Eugene O'Neill, American playwright, was seriously ill with tuberculosis in Switzerland and therefore was unable to come to London for the premiere last night of his play, "Wedded."

There were reports last December that Eugene O'Neill was suffering in Shanghai from a recurrence of a lung ailment but the reports were denied by Mr. O'Neill's lawyer, Harry Weinberger, of New York.

At Shanghai it was said his malady was bronchitis and a nervous breakdown. He went from Shanghai to Manila to seek rest and seclusion and upon his arrival there, December 19, was said to have looked worn and haggard.

Recently four of his plays were running simultaneously in various New York theaters.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY DIES OF WOUNDS FROM SHOTGUN

Memphis, Tenn., June 6.—(P)—Elton Jones, 17, Collierville high school athlete, died late today from shotgun wounds received this morning while he and several friends were on a fishing trip. Reports of the accident said he was asleep and kicked the shotgun which was leaning against a tree. The weapon was discharged when it struck the ground. The accident occurred near Collierville.

State Tobacco Market Date To Be Named

Valdosta, Ga., June 6.—(Special).—The annual meeting of the United States Tobacco Association will be held at Virginia Beach June 26, 27 and 28, at which time a date for the opening of the Georgia tobacco market will be fixed.

Several Valdostans will attend this meeting, including B. B. Saunders, warehouseman; Nat R. Smith, warehouseman; Fleming Winn, executive vice president of the Citizens & Southern National bank, and Abial Winn, vice president of the First National bank.

Last year Henry Y. Tillman, vice president of the Citizens & Southern National bank, was made a director in the association and a successor will be named this season to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Tillman. Valdosta's importance as a tobacco market and center was recognized by the selection of Mr. Tillman and it is expected that some other interested Valdosta man will be named to succeed him on the board.

There is talk in tobacco circles that July 23 will most likely be selected as the date for opening the Georgia market, although the time to open the South Carolina market will govern the Georgia opening date somewhat.

JAHNCKE VISITS IN NEW ORLEANS ON AIR TOUR OF U. S.

New Orleans, June 6.—(P)—Assistant, Secretary of the Navy Lee Jahncke, on an air tour of the United States naval bases, arrived in New Orleans, his home city, at 4:50 p. m. in a tri-motored navy plane piloted by Lieutenant J. W. Tomlinson. He was met by a number of representative citizens and extended the honors of the city.

GEORGE IS NAMED ON GROUP TO DRAFT TEXTILE SCHEDULE

Washington, June 6.—(By Staff Correspondent).—Preparatory to opening hearings on the new tariff bill by the senate finance committee, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today was assigned to membership on the subcommittee of the finance body which will draft all schedules in textile products, including everything from cotton to wool.

The textile subcommittee will be presided over by Senator Bingham, republican, of Connecticut, and will be composed of Senators Sackett, of Kentucky, and Green, of Vermont, republicans, together with Senator George and Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, the only two democrats.

Following the assignment Senator George announced that hearings on the various commodities will be conducted at an early date. Hemp, jute and burlap will be considered June 10, he said; wool, June 24; silk, July 1, and rayon, July 8.

SNOOK GIVEN PLACE WITH AVIATION FIRM

Family Expected To Join Him in New York in Near Future.

John W. Snook, former warden of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, whose protest against the "spy" policies of Assistant Attorney-General Mabel Walker Willebrandt started a controversy that resulted in his resignation, has accepted a position with a large New York air transport corporation. It was learned here Thursday, Arthur C. Aderhold, deputy warden under Snook, was recently made warden of the prison.

Following his resignation, Mr. Snook made a trip to the Pacific coast, where it was understood that he considered offers of business opportunities. While on that trip he stopped in Idaho, his native state, where he has maintained a cattle ranch for some years. Returning through Atlanta he proceeded on to New York and has been there several weeks. Reports of his affiliation with the air company were confirmed at his home here Thursday and his family probably will join him in New York soon.

Mr. Snook resigned the wardenship of the Idaho state prison to come to Atlanta about four years ago as warden of the federal prison. During his occupancy of this post several notable improvements were made at the institution. Included among these were the enlargement of the duck mill and the creation of "farms" for narcotic addicts among the prisoners.

The warden's vigorous protests against placing "spies" in the prison to check on his official acts brought upon him the disfavor of Mrs. Willebrandt and resulted in his being forced from his post. The recent announcement of Mrs. Willebrandt's resignation from the department of justice is believed by many to be an aftermath of this "spy" policy first exposed by The Constitution.

WILD ROSE LEADS MOST POPULAR FLOWER CONTEST

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—Of more than half a million votes cast in the balloting to determine the most popular flower of the American Nature Association, 220,157 have been cast for the wild rose. The columbine has 103,069, violet 54,003 and the goldenrod 35,812 votes.

Miss Hattie Rainwater, nature supervisor in Atlanta schools, has sent in 11,000 votes and Miss Jessie Ingram, general science teacher of Ensey High school, Birmingham, 17,129 votes.

The votes sent from Atlanta represented the opinions of thousands of Atlanta adults as well as pupils, since the children not only voted themselves but were allowed to take ballots home to get the votes of their parents and friends. Miss Rainwater explained that the contest is being staged through the nature association with a view to having some flower named as the official national flower. The goldenrod has been semi-officially considered the national bloom for many years.

COUNTY OFFICERS FAIL TO AGREE ON 1930 CITY

Brunswick Meeting Adjourned After Fight Over Convention City.

Brunswick, Ga., June 6.—(AP)—Today's meeting of the County Officers' Association of Georgia was hastily adjourned when a spirited fight developed over the location of the 1930 meeting place, threatening to throw the convention far behind in its schedule.

Savannah, Valdosta and Thomasville had extended invitations for next year's meeting, and many speeches were made by supporters of the three cities. The sudden motion for adjournment delayed the report of the resolutions committee until tomorrow.

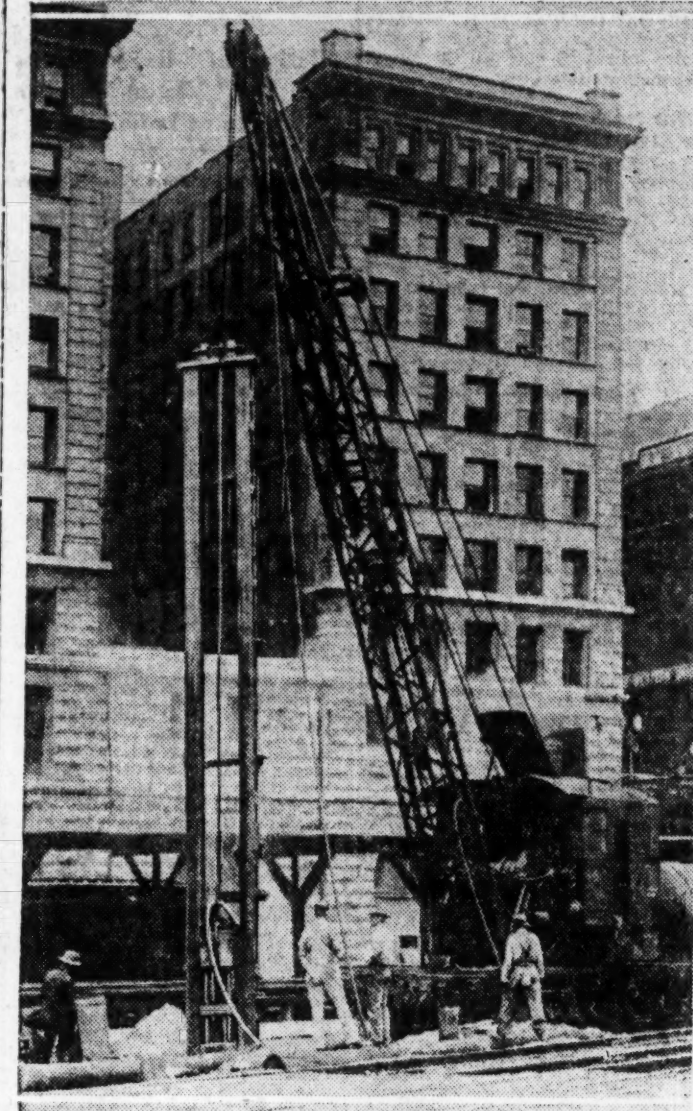

Before the convention got into the scramble over the next convention city, the county officers heard an appeal for a $100,000,000 state highway bond issue by W. T. Anderson, editor of the Macon Telegraph.

Mr. Anderson went into detail on the plan. His address and a report of W. H. Gardner, president of the association, featured the morning session.

In the afternoon the visitors were entertained with automobile rides over nearby island resorts. Tonight they attended a shore dinner on St. Simons island.

Macon delegates indicated today they would get into the fight tomorrow for next year's convention city.

Work Begun on Foundation For New $400,000 Station

Foundation laying as a forerunner of actual construction work on the $400,000 Union station for Atlanta was begun Thursday by the N. C. & St. L. railway. The thrower building looms in the background. The new structure will front on the Forsyth street viaduct and will be located to the west, covering the railway tracks in that area. A part of the Forsyth street viaduct will be reconstructed by the railroad in connection of the new station.

Start on the foundation for the new $400,000 Union station to be located on the west side of the Forsyth street viaduct was made Thursday when the N. C. & St. L. railway began the driving of pilings.

Bids for actual construction of the project will be received within the next few days and work will be completed by late fall or early winter, according to James B. Hill, president of the company.

Permit for erection of butterfly sheds extending from Fairlie street to Mangum already has been issued by

C. J. Bowen, city building inspector. The new depot will supplant the old shed on Pryor street, which will be razed to make way for construction of a $3,500,000 warehouse and office building if plans which are now being considered by railway officials and Chicago financial interests materialize.

Driving of the piling and other preliminaries incident to actual start on the superstructure is in line with announcement of Mr. Hill that every effort will be made to push the improvement to as rapid completion as is possible.

London, Pearce, R.O.T.C. Heads, At Tech, Lauded

Georgia Tech's faculty, in its last official meeting before the commencement program of Sunday and Monday, Thursday afternoon adopted resolutions commending the administrations of Commander J. J. London, of the Naval R. O. T. C. unit, and Col. E. A. Pearce, of the Army R. O. T. C. Both commanders have been moved from their stations as post commanders at Georgia Tech.

At the same meeting more than 300 seniors were recommended to the board of trustees for diplomas on Monday, June 10, following the baccalaureate address of Hon. George H. Carswell, secretary of state.

The resolutions were drawn by Professors Reade, Sparks and Dunn and the following to say about Commander London:

"Commander London, in a few weeks after his arrival, not only had command of a group of officers of the highest naval type but soon had so inspired the young student-officers to the same high idealism, which the faculty found so much a part of himself. This he continued as long as his tenure at Georgia Tech, all the time building up a naval unit the envy of all other big schools of the country.

"The faculty judgment of him from the very first was so many times justified in the fine reports coming from the navy department every year when in charge of the unit here, finally winning the approval of Admiral Robertson in the deserved tribute paid Commander London in his lecture from Atlanta and Georgia Tech."

Of Colonel Pearce, the resolutions said:

"That Colonel Pearce is a splendid soldier, a man of rare courage and devotion to duty, an able and efficient commandant—all these things are matters of record. But those of us who have been privileged to know him and to work with him for the past six years will remember him not as an able and efficient commander only, but rather as a devoted and loyal friend. From his soldierly bearing we will remember him as a West Pointer of the finest type. From the inverted 'V' on his right sleeve we will remember him as an officer who faced the ordeal of fire in 1917. The initiated, perhaps, will remember him also as a holder of the Distinguished Service Medal. But those of us who know him will remember him as an overgrown boy whose odd fancies, whose quips of merriment, and whose little every-day kindnesses endeared him to us all."

JUDGE JENKINS

239 MIDDIES GET DIPLOMAS, ADVICE FROM SECRETARY

Annapolis, Md., June 6.—(AP)—Secretary Charles Francis Adams told 239 midshipmen graduating from the naval academy today that the United States navy was one of the greatest engineering marvels of the day. He spoke at the exercises at which he presented their diplomas.

After the presentation of diplomas the class marched to another building

TWO ELECTROCUTIONS ARE SET FOR JUNE 21

Columbus, Ga., June 6.—(AP)—Date for the electrocution of Dave Brookins, white, and John Rushing, negro, today was set for June 21 by Judge James Maddox, of the Rome circuit, who is presiding here because of the illness of Judge C. F. McLaughlin.

Brookins was convicted of murder of his estranged wife, Susie Brookins, on December 18, 1927. Rushing was convicted of murder of Susie Jackson, negro, on December 20, 1927. Both men were sentenced to death in February, 1928, and were scheduled to die April 13. Appeals were taken, however, but new trials denied. Later Governor Hardman granted both 60-day reprieves.

HUSBAND IS ADDED TO AUTO CRASH TOLL

P. A. Smith Dies in Winder
Hospital Following Wreck on Highway.

Lawrenceville, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—P. A. Smith, second victim of the auto crash on the Bankhead highway here Wednesday at which time his wife was instantly killed in a crash with a car being driven by Mrs. Bona Allen, Sr., died at the Winder hospital this morning.

The Smiths were on their way to South Carolina, where they lived. Mr. Smith was general superintendent of Loring mills at Gastonia until two weeks ago when they moved to Spartanburg.

Remains of the wreck victims will be shipped to Columbia, S. C., and the funeral held there Saturday, according to arrangements of relatives and friends of the dead people who arrived here this morning.

Mrs. Allen was only slightly hurt and the other three people occupying her car were uninjured. Since the death of her husband, Bona Allen, Sr., one of the most prominent and influential citizens in this section of the state, Mrs. Allen has been living at her old homestead near Spartanburg, near where the accident occurred.

The Smiths are survived by four children, C. O. Smith, Lancaster, S. C.; Daisy, Alice and A. B. Smith, of Spartanburg.

gress early in the regular session which begins December 2.

An inter-departmental committee has been making a preliminary survey of this question under the direction of James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, and it will co-operate with the congressional committee, as will the national law enforcement commission, which in the course of its work will make a study of this whole question.

As administration officers explain it, the transfer of the enforcement machinery to the justice department involves an extensive study of existing laws and regulations as well as of policy in dealing with the coast

BLIND WIFE-SLAYER GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Not To Appeal Verdict.
Probably Will Begin Term
Immediately.

Americus, Ga., June 6.—(P.)—John Deloach, blind mechanic, was sentenced to life in prison today for the murder of his wife of a few months and shortly after, through attorneys, announced that he would not appeal. He was convicted by a jury which recommended mercy, automatically fixing the penalty at life imprisonment.

Superior Clerk H. E. Allen announced that papers would be sent to the prison commission at Atlanta immediately, and that Deloach probably would be sent to Milledgeville to begin his sentence in a few days.

Since the death of his wife several weeks ago, Deloach has become completely blind from drinking poison liquor, according to testimony of physicians at his trial. It was also testified that he was under the influence of liquor when he shot his wife while the couple were seated in an automobile in front of their home here.

Deloach's defense consisted of a single sentence spoken and unchallenged. It was:

"They say I killed her; if I did I'm sorry."

One physician testified that the liquor he had drunk shortly before the killing probably resulted in Deloach's blindness. The mechanic, son of a prosperous farmer of Americus, had to be led to the witness stand. Mrs. Deloach had lived in Americus only a short while when she married Deloach.

U. S. GUNBOAT GOES AGROUND AT MOUTH OF CHINESE RIVER

Shanghai, June 6.—(P.)—The United States gunboat Luzon, 575 tons, was aground today at the breakwater at the mouth of the Huang Pu River, but was in no danger, it was expected to be refloated at high tide, 5 a. m. Friday.

The accident occurred where the Huang Pu flows into the Yangtze River. The ship hitting the breakwater at 10 p. m. Wednesday. Fleet flagship officers insisted today there was no danger.

The Luzon, which had been at the mouth of the Yangtze at target practice, was in the hands of a civilian pilot when the accident occurred. Officers of the fleet flagship, the Pittsburgh, said the pilot gave an incorrect order and as the Luzon was near the breakwater it crashed before the helmsman could correct it.

The Pittsburgh sent down two mine-sweepers, which were standing by. Lighters took off the boat's fuel oil to lighten its bow, which has two punctures. It probably will have to go to dry dock at Shanghai for repairs. The crew remained aboard.

REAPPORTIONMENT BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Republican wheelhorse of Illinois, was in the chair, and whether by prearrangement or otherwise, he prearranged its admissibility. Later the Tilson substitute was adopted by a vote of 212 to 102.

Thus the two controversial amendments were eliminated. It only remained for the bill to preserve this status.

The fight had only started, however, for almost immediately, Representative Hoch, republican, of Kansas, offered again the amendment seeking the exclusion of aliens as a basis of reapportionment. It was his only method of having the provision reconsidered in the bill. By this time the speaker's chair was well perched on legislative steam-roller, and Representative Chidholm, still at the throttle, found it expedient to uphold a point of order against the Hoch proposal.

Fail to Override Chair.

No sooner was the ruling announced than the storm broke anew. Demands were made to override the decision of the chair and a prolonged debate ensued. In announcing his ruling, Presiding Officer Chidholm had impressed southern members by reading copiously from other rulings along the same line throwing out as not germane the anti-southern proposal of Representative Tinkham, republican, of Massachusetts, who has submitted his measure regularly and at every opportunity throughout the 10 or more years he has been a member of congress. Since the votes of southern democrats were needed to overthrow the chair, his reference to the Tinkham matter was taken as a warning that unless the ruling was sustained something untoward might happen to the negro exclusion clause, which every eye knew would follow if the Hoch amendment prevailed.

When the vote was taken the alien exclusionists were unable to approach the two-thirds majority necessary to overthrow the chair. The best they were able to poll was 129 against 202 for upholding the decision—not even a majority, a fact which indicated that many of the democratic contingent reversed themselves on the issue, realizing, perhaps, they had played poor politics on the initial count.

Informed by this vote that he now faced certain defeat, Representative Tinkham, his ruddy face aglow and his long, raven whiskers bobbing on his chin, bounced out of the chamber in high dudgeon. He was not seen in the well of the house for the rest of the day.

The census reapportionment bill, already passed by the house, now goes to conference for adjustment of one or two minor differences. One of the chief changes ordered by the house places the date of the national enumeration as May, 1930, instead of November, 1929, as provided by the senate.

GEORGIA DELEGATION TO REMAIN SAME.

Washington, June 6.—(P.)—Seventeen states would lose 23 representatives which would be distributed among 11 states under a reapportionment of the house on the basis of estimated population for 1930. The reapportionment bill passed today would provide that the house seats should be divided among the different states on the basis of the population census, the new allotment of seats to be made by the director of the census if congress should fail to act.

On a basis of 435 members and using the estimated 1930 population, the following states would lose: Missouri, 2; Indiana, 1; Kentucky and Mississippi, 2 each; Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont and Virginia one each.

The following states would gain: California, 6; Michigan, 4; Ohio, 3; New Jersey and Texas, 2 each; Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Washington, 1 each.

OFFICER IS INJURED CAPTURING BURGLAR

Lieutenant A. T. Butler, of the Fulton county police, early this morning was slightly injured when he was tempted to arrest a burglar who was trying to enter a window of a grocery on Peachtree road, formerly known as Clerk's grocery.

Lieutenant Butler and Claude Webb were patrolling their beat when they noticed the man at the window. As Lieutenant Butler commanded the burglar to throw up his hands, the latter struck the policeman over the head with a heavy iron bar. In the meantime a confederate of the burglar escaped.

Butler was treated at Grady hospital and then, accompanied by his prisoner, returned to his beat in the hope of capturing the confederate. Officers at county police headquarters did not know the name of the prisoner.

Re-elect Head Of Southern Traffic League

Macon, Ga., June 6.—(P.)—W. S. Creighton, Charlotte, N. C., was re-elected president of the Southern Traffic league at the annual session of that body here today. M. M. Caskey, Montgomery, Ala., was re-elected executive secretary when the vote was taken just before the close of the session.

J. O. Cromwell, traffic manager of the Macon Chamber of Commerce, was elected to the board of governors, which body met after the election and selected T. M. Henderson, Nashville, Tenn., chairman.

T. A. Bosley, Richmond, Va., was elected first vice president; T. J. Burke, Charleston, S. C., second vice president; and the following were elected members of the board of governors: W. S. Creighton, Mr. Henderson, Mr. Bosley, Joseph S. De Vant, Memphis; S. L. Yerkes, Birmingham; Carl R. Cunningham, Atlanta; F. C. Hillier, Jacksonville; A. G. T. Moore, New Orleans; Mr. Cromwell, Macon; T. J. Burke, Charleston, S. C.; Mr. Caskey, Montgomery; C. R. Moffett, Knoxville, Tenn.; R. G. Cobb, Mobile, Ala.; H. Ignatius, Cincinnati, Ohio; E. Del Wood, Chattanooga, Tenn.; A. W. Carey, Birmingham; Joseph Donnell, Tampa, Fla.; H. P. Friedman, Portsmouth, Va.; M. M. Emmert, Atlanta, and W. L. Thornton, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Following an all-day session in which many matters relating to rates and procedure were presented and discussed, the members with a large gathering of Macon business men, assembled at dinner. The meeting was informal without set addresses. Entertainment features included musical numbers and vaudeville presentations. Many of the members gathered for the program of the southeast shippers' advisory board Friday, attended the dinner.

MRS. P. L. GREER, NORCROSS WOMAN, DIES IN ATLANTA

Lawrenceville, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. P. L. Greer, 48, of Norcross, died early this morning at an Atlanta hospital conference, infected with the disease. She was operated on about eight weeks ago for the trouble.

She is survived by her husband and six children, W. D. Greer, H. T. Greer, C. P. Greer, A. L. Greer, H. D. Greer and Cynthia Greer, all of Norcross. Funeral services will be held from Norcross Baptist church Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Burial will be in the Norcross cemetery.

A. M. E. WOMAN'S GROUP OPENS DISTRICT MEETING

Kingston, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society convention of the Marietta district of the A. M. E. church, north Georgia conference, convened in Quinn Chapel church here today with Dr. J. A. Hadley serving as presiding elder.

The missionary work of the district is under the direction of Florence L. Hadley, district president. The pastor, Rev. L. J. Hamilton, and officers of the church have made provision for the entertaining of the large delegation gathered here from all sections of the district, including the large number of visitors from Atlanta. The organization was perfected in the election of the officers of the district.

Fruit Conference.

Manning S. Yeomans, state auto-mobilist, will confer Friday with Florida officials at Jacksonville concerning a proposal to lift the Florida embargo on the shipment of certain stone fruits of Georgia into that state.

GAS WELLS EXPLODES, PILLAR OF FLAME KILLS TWO MEN

Buffalo, N. Y., June 6.—(P.)—Workmen were battling today to subdue a 75-foot pillar of flame roaring from a gas well which exploded last night on a farm near East Aurora, killing two men and injuring eight.

Employees of the Iroquois Gas Corporation, owners of the well, were preparing to play steam into the blazing pit, but it was feared that the flames, fed by 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas pressure, may have to be checked by wrecking the casing of the well with nitro glycerine.

Drillers struck gas yesterday at 2,800 feet, and it was while setting an inside casing, preparatory to tapping off the well, that a spark, either by clashing casing metal or the friction of pressure touched off seepage gas.

Municipal Swimming Pools Go Into Operation Saturday; 'Open House' Is Declared

Schools To Close Today. Elaborate Recreation Program for City's Youngsters Announced.

Coincident with the closing of Atlanta's public schools today and the release of the city's 65,000 school children from class rooms and school routine, John A. White, councilman from the fourth ward and chairman of the parks committee of city council, announced the most pretentious recreation program ever planned for the youngsters.

Swimming pools—half a dozen of them—will be opened for the season beginning at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Five of the bathing centers will be for white persons and one for negroes.

The white pools will be Grant, Piedmont, Moxley, Maddox, and Oakland City and Washington park for negroes.

No Suits Under Ban. At the same time park department officials declared that any bathing suit permitted in any swimming pool in the United States will be allowed in the Atlanta pools this summer.

In addition to the pools, there are three golf courses, Candler, Piedmont and Key, two pony tracks, at Grant and Piedmont, fourteen baseball diamonds, 59 tennis courts, five picnic grounds and a total of 31 playgrounds which will be ready for the ring of the going when the play season is formally opened. Pools will be open every morning from 5:30 o'clock to 10:30 except Sundays, when they will close at 9 o'clock in the mornings; and from 2:30 o'clock in the afternoons to 9:30 o'clock at night.

Corps of competent life guards will be on duty at all times and a special instructor will assist in teaching swimming.

Police Hold Man in Check Forging 'Ring'

Madison, Ga., June 6.—(Special.) Local police today are holding a man believed to be a member of an extensive "ring" of check forgers who have been operating in Georgia and Alabama cities recently.

A man giving his name as G. Y. Griffith, 50, and claiming to be a shell-shocked veteran of the World War was arrested here Tuesday, while apparently in an intoxicated condition. Following his arrest it was found that he had on his person a number of checks, filled out with different names and all issued on the Georgia Railroad bank and signed "Georgia Power Co. by C. B. Hamilton, cashier." These checks were prepared with typewriting and check-writing machines and were marked as payroll checks. All were for amounts slightly under $100. An official of the Georgia Power company examined these checks and pronounced them forgeries, police stated today.

In addition to these prepared checks Griffith was carrying a large number of blank checks on the Georgia Railroad bank and other banks.

Chief of Police C. E. Elder is holding Griffith pending a more complete investigation of his case. According to Chief Elder, Griffith answers well the description of a man wanted in Alabama for the forgery of several checks on the Alabama Power Co., and the Fourth National bank, of Montgomery, Ala. It is the belief of police here that Griffith has a number of confederates who have been working with him on the passing of bad checks on a large scale.

ROME POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Rome, Ga., June 6.—(Special.) What is thought to be the highest gain in postal receipts for any one month was noted here for the month of May and is declared phenomenal by Mrs. John Barclay, postmistress.

The gain for May was 40 per cent over the receipts for the same month last year. The gain for the year has been steady each month showing more business than during the Christmas rush in December. For the past three months alone, the average gain has been 32.5 per cent. March showed a 26 per cent increase; April, 31, and now May with 40 per cent.

Woodlore Expert Added To Staff Of Local Scouts

Another expert on scouting activities and a specialist in campcraft and woodlore has been added to the executive force of the Atlanta Boy Scout organization with the engaging of Ed Dodd, former Gainesville scout executive and experienced leader in scout work, it was announced Thursday by W. A. Dobson, Atlanta scout executive.

Mr. Dodd will serve as a field scout executive for this district and will be in charge of the Bert Adams scout camp, near Vining. The camp will open on June 17 and will be run in sections throughout the summer months.

For the past three years Mr. Dodd has headed the scouting work at Gainesville. He was in charge of the camp for about seven years with Dan Beard, probably the country's most widely recognized authority on camping and one of the best known leaders of the Boy Scout movement. He also spent three summers in western camps learning woodcraft at first hand from the Indians and during three winters conducted special woodcraft training courses at the New York State Military academy.

Mr. Dodd is expected to bring many innovations to the already interesting and beneficial programs of the Bert Adams camp and, according to Mr. Dobson, capacity groups are expected to be in camp during each section of the season.

64 ATLANTA LAW SCHOOL STUDENTS GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Judge Sheppard Bryan was principal speaker Thursday night at the Atlanta Women's Club at the 38th annual graduating exercises of the Atlanta Law school, when 64 members of the senior class were presented with diplomas.

Spencer Jacobs was the first honor student and delivered the valedictory address. The Douglas medal for debating was won by D. T. Pre. M. T. Phare had the highest average for the senior class, with J. Hanna second best in scholastic standing. Miss E. P. Turner won the Harrison prize for excellence during the first year and F. A. McMullan and Paul Thompson were mentioned for lower class honors in scholarship.

Winners of the Robert C. Alston medals for the best theses and the American Law Book for the best legal research work will be announced later.

TITLE TO FAMOUS WORMSLOE ESTATE CHANGES HANDS

Savannah, Ga., June 6.—(Special.) By warranty deed filed for record here today in Chatham superior court, Wynberley W. DeRenne has conveyed the title to Wormsloe, the DeRenne estate near Savannah, as well as adjacent property on the Skidaway river known as Long island, to the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities.

The consideration is stated to be $10,000 cash and the assumption of a deed to secure debt for $45,000. In the warranty it is declared that a second deed to secure debt, amounting to $300,000 originally, made two years ago, is not assumed by the purchaser.

Mr. DeRenne declined tonight to explain just what the transaction meant, but stated that possession would not pass out of the DeRenne family, which received the estate from George II in 1737 and which has remained in the family since. It is believed here that the transaction is to clear up some pending matters in the estate, the nature of which are not disclosed, and that title to the estate will either be reconveyed to members of the DeRenne family or that Mr. DeRenne himself will again secure title to it.

GRAIN RATE HIKE UNJUSTIFIED, I. C. C. RULING DECLARES

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—Proposed increases on through rates on grain and grain products from Oklahoma and Kansas to destinations in Texas and the southeast, when moved or stored in transit, were found today by the interstate commerce commission to be unjustified.

The increased rates, proposed by the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific and the Atchafalpa, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads, were protested principally by millers in southern Kansas and northern Oklahoma.

ANNUAL TOBACCO FIELD MEETING SLATED JUNE 11

Tifton, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—Annual tobacco field meeting will be held at the coastal plain experimental station at Tifton, June 11. A large delegation of farmers and county agents are expected to attend this meeting to observe the elaborate experiments with tobacco. These experiments have been running for eight years and have enabled the tobacco farmers to increase their profits.

There will be various tobacco specialists who will pilot the farmers through the experimental plots and explain the effects of the various treatments. Delegations will arrive at 10 o'clock. All those who are interested in tobacco production are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

ARREST OF NOBLEMAN 'LEGGER STIRS FRENCH'

New York, June 6.—(United News.) Comte Maxence De Polignac, scion of a distinguished line of the French nobility which dates back to the year 1631, was arrested by undercover dry agents today in New York's most sensational liquor raid of the year.

Prohibition officials charged that the titled Frenchman was the European agent for a huge smuggling ring which has been supplying Park avenue millionaires with the choicest whiskeys, champagnes and brandies to be found on the continent.

Along with the count were arrested almost a score of other men, several of them said to be wealthy leaders of the ring. All were held in high bail by federal authorities. The raiders then descended upon warehouses and seized more than 10 tons of fine imported liquors which they charged had been brought into the country by the men.

Seize Records of Trade. An expensive suite of rooms at the fashionable Savoy-Plaza hotel, which the count was just preparing to vacate prior to sailing for France tomorrow, was one of the first places raided by the squad of 37 agents sent out by William J. Calhoun, chief of undercover men in the prohibition enforcement bureau.

In the count's suite, Calhoun said, were found a loaded revolver, eight cases of liquor and documents which indicated that the alleged ring carried on one of the most extensive liquor smuggling trades yet found.

News of the raid caused dismay at the French consulate. The count was well known, officials said, and was a member of one of the most honorable houses in France. His name and family are listed in the Almanac De Gotha, official register of Europe's major nobility. The house of Polignac long has enjoyed a reputation as one of the most famous champagne producers in France.

Released On Bond. It was intimated that the consulate would not interfere in the present difficulty, regarding it as strictly a private matter. The count, who is 37, made indignant protests when the dry agents paid their unexpected visit to his suite but they availed nothing and he finally accompanied the raiders to the sub-treasury building to hear his bail set.

The first protests were as nothing, however, compared to those made by both the count and his attorney, Thomas O'Rourke Gallagher, when they were informed that the government could not give the nobleman his liberty until he had posted $25,000.

The security finally was arranged late today, several hours after the arrest, despite Gallagher's initial protests that such a large amount would keep Count Maxence in jail until December, the probable date of the trial.

The attorney was trying to obtain court permission tonight for his client to go ahead with his original plan of sailing tomorrow.

DRIVE MADE TO CLEAN DETROIT TERRITORY.

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—Determined to end run-running across the Canadian border in the Detroit area, the treasury today ordered a concentration of customs and prohibition agents and coast guardsmen to start an intensive drive against liquor smugglers there.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary, said every available agent from other sections of the United States would be sent into the area under command of E. R. Norwood, a veteran customs agent, who has been in charge of the territory in northern New York with headquarters at Ogdensburg.

Norwood has been in the government service for 30 years. He succeeds F. A. Yount, special agent in charge of the newly organized customs special squad at Detroit, who was transferred to Chicago.

The decision for concentrated effort to break up liquor smuggling from Windsor and other Canadian points was reached today at a conference held in Lowman's office. Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard; J. M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, and Frank Dow, acting customs commissioner, were present.

It was the outcome of reports that large quantities of liquor were being brought into the United States from Canada and the recent investigation in the customs border patrol at Detroit, which resulted in indictment of 22 agents and conviction of 11.

Carey Ferguson resigned as collector of customs at Detroit yesterday. He was not involved in any way in the charges made against the customs agents. Lowman said, and resigned to enter private business.

As soon as the conference adjourned orders went forth for agents to concentrate at Detroit and the coast guard ordered all available small boats from all sections of the country to be sent to Lakes Huron, Erie and St. Clair. Already there are 154 new customs agents operating in the Detroit area, sent there after the investigation into charges that members of the border patrol were conniving with smugglers to let liquor cross the Detroit river.

Norwood will devote his attention to co-ordinating the work of the prohibition, customs and coast guard services in the area, while the customs squad operating on the Detroit river will remain under the direct command of Chief Patrol Inspector Albertson.

Like Their Liquor.

Ottawa, June 6.—The French island of Miquelon, off Newfoundland, last year imported 51.21 gallons of Canadian liquor per adult inhabitant. The folks in Miquelon use liquor for the same purpose as those in the Bahamas.

SMITH POLLED 7,590
VOTES; TITSHAW 2,001

Official Tabulation Shows Big Victory for Water- works Manager.

W. Zode Smith, superintendent of the city water works, won another term of office in Wednesday's city-wide primary, complete returns tabulated by the city democratic committee. Mr. Smith defeated Ernest P. Titshaw by almost four to one. Mr. Smith polled a total of 7,590 votes while Mr. Titshaw's total was only 2,001.

Mr. Titshaw carried only one precinct, A of the twelfth ward, which enabled him to carry the ward 270 in 216.

In the councilmanic races Nelson Spratt, incumbent, defeated Charles Ford, former alderman in the tenth ward, and C. L. McLendon defeated Jake Jacobs in the second ward, the only two closely contested races in the city.

Spratt Ford Race.
Vote by precincts in the Spratt-Ford contest was as follows:
A—Spratt 522; Ford 165.
B—Spratt 529; Ford 204.
C—Spratt 290; Ford 714.

Councilman J. W. Rountree, of the third ward, was nominated for another term by a 4-to-1 margin over the combined vote of two opponents. Councilman Rountree received 513 votes to 188 for E. N. Hendrix and 76 for Dr. Edwin Scott.

The vote by precincts in this contest was:
A—Rountree 381; Hendrix 134; Scott 28.
B—Rountree 457; Hendrix 49; Scott 36.
C—Rountree 75; Hendrix 5; Scott 32.

W. Chester McLendon defeated Jake Jacobs, 629 votes to 498 for the city council seat from the second ward which Dr. Turner will vacate when he becomes an alderman.

Vote by precincts in this race was:
A—McLendon 222; Jacobs 309.
B—McLendon 407; Jacobs 189.
C—McLendon 231; Jacobs 23.

Dodd Is Winner.
Vote by precincts in this race was:
A—Dodd 494; Etheridge 59.
B—Dodd 138; Etheridge 341.
C—Dodd 100; Etheridge 23.

Progress shown in girls' activities by local chest.
Activities of character-forming societies for young girls operated in connection with the Atlanta Community chest were reviewed in service reports to that organization for May, which revealed progress in the training of leaders and in work for wholesome development.

An enrollment of 792 was reported for the Atlanta Girl Scouts in May, 83 having been added to the enrollment of 746 at the first of the month. The Camp Fire Girls reported an enrollment of 458, an increase of 410 from the figures of the first.

A total attendance of 1,775 at the 103 events held for Girl Scouts in the course of the month was reported, and 1,500 on 200 events held for Camp Fire Girls.

Leadership training courses in both organizations, a "mother-daughter-day" party for the Camp Fire Girls, hikes, week-end trips, and outdoor training were listed among the activities.

Return of Tarzan (This Week Brief Review of Tarzan's Early History as Shown in Previous Strips)

By E. R. Burroughs

Terkos, the great ape who had seized and was carrying Jane into the depths of the jungle, was finally overtaken by the furious Tarzan. Seeing flight was futile, Terkos dropped groundward. Tarzan bounded like a leopard into the open glade. Terkos turned to fight for his prize and after a desperate battle in which Tarzan's long knife sank repeatedly into his life's blood, the great ape's carcass rolled lifeless upon the ground.

Jane, rescued by Tarzan, realized she was still a captive. She struggled desperately. But Tarzan's strong arms held her more tightly. Once he looked down into her eyes, and smiled. The face above her was of extraordinary beauty. Jane pointed to the diamond locket hanging about her neck. Opened it she beheld the strange likeness of Lord and Lady Greytroke and this forest god. Presently he took to the trees. On and on they went for many miles.

It was nearly sunset the next day when they came to the clearing. Tarzan parted the tall jungle grass. There stood the cabin. He turned to leave her. The last few hours had taught her to trust this strange, wild creature. It dawned upon her that she had learned something she had never really know before—LOVE. She threw her arms about his neck and kissed him, unashamed. "I love you," she murmured. "I shall wait for you—always." He was gone.

Meanwhile, a French warship had dropped anchor before the cabin and a young officer, d'Arnot, learning the situation, had led a searching party to hunt for Jane. He was captured, tortured, and bound to a stake by savages. Tarzan eventually found him. When he had released and revived the Frenchman, the two returned to the cabin. They found the ship had given d'Arnot up for dead, and, with Jane and her father, had sailed.

Another month and d'Arnot and Tarzan reached a little river port. d'Arnot had studied all the traces he could find at the cabin relating to Tarzan's origin, and, meanwhile, he had been engaged in teaching French to Tarzan, who was a very eager student. At the port d'Arnot cabled his government for a three months' leave and his banker for funds. During their wait the handsome "Monsieur Tarzan" became the wonder of both blacks and whites.

Chiefs Indorse Atlanta Claim For Vets' Home

Indorsement of Atlanta as the proper site of the proposed National Soldiers' Home was given by the International Association of Chiefs of Police at the final business session here Thursday afternoon in unanimous adoption of a resolution which was proposed by A. W. Jones, organizer of the Atlanta Police band; Thomas F. Foley, of Worcester, Mass.; Henry Clayton, of Red Bank, N. J.; and F. C. Hoefert, Tonawanda, N. Y. It is planned to present similar resolutions to all conventions assembling in Atlanta in the near future.

Dr. Sam W. Small, of the Constitution editorial staff and a veteran of the Confederate and Spanish-American wars, was selected to present resolutions to the convention of the National Educational Association which is to be held here this month. Efforts also will be made to secure the co-operation of the state legislature.

The resolution passed by the police chiefs said that the veterans' residence in the southeastern states of Georgia has no easy access to such a home and need such benefits as one affords, equally with the veterans of any other section of the union.

The chiefs of police resolved "that we sincerely trust the Georgia legislature will enact legislation for the construction of a suitable building for a proper and fully equipped branch of the National Soldiers and Sailors' Home, with due regard to the climatic and geographic requisitions for such a residence for aged veterans."

CITY SCHOOL CHANGES WILL COME UP TODAY

Members of the charter revision committee of city council, at a special meeting slated for 3 o'clock this afternoon, will consider a number of proposed sweeping changes in administration of Atlanta public schools. The measures were offered to city council and referred to the committee for a report, as all contemplate charter changes.

One of the measures calls for abolition of the present board and provides for another to be elected by city council; it also would abolish the present charter provision making it mandatory on council to set up 26 per cent of the gross income of the city for school purposes and leave the allocation for schools to the discretion of council as other departments.

This paper was offered by Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, of the eighth ward. Members of the administrative department of the school system and of the present board will appear before the committee to oppose favorable recommendation of the paper, it was stated.

Among other school papers is one offered by Councilman William E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, which would provide a monthly salary of $50 for each member of the board and force the board to set up teachers' salaries before other allocations of schools funds are made. The salary accounts under the provisions of the ordinance could not be diverted for any purpose, but would remain intact.

A meeting of the committee was slated several days ago, but at the request of George W. Powell, president of the board, Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, chairman of the charter revision committee, deferred the session until this afternoon.

30-YEAR ROMANCE OF COUPLE LANDS IN DIVORCE COURT

The childhood romance of Charles M. Lewis, manufacturing plant manager, and Lela M. Lewis, who began nearly 30 years ago, when they were neighbors in St. Louis and married in 1922, when the couple were married, struck an uncharted reef and landed in the divorce court presided over by Superior Judge Edgar E. Pomerooy Thursday.

Mrs. Lewis, who lives at West Palm Beach, Fla., was not in court, but her deposition recited a number of charges against her husband, who retaliated with a cross-petition charging extreme cruelty.

Evidence brought out in the trial showed that the couple after being childhood sweethearts drifted apart when they grew up and both married. Mr. Lewis' wife died and Mrs. Lewis became a widow. They met again in 1922, the old love was revived and they were married. They have been separated several months.

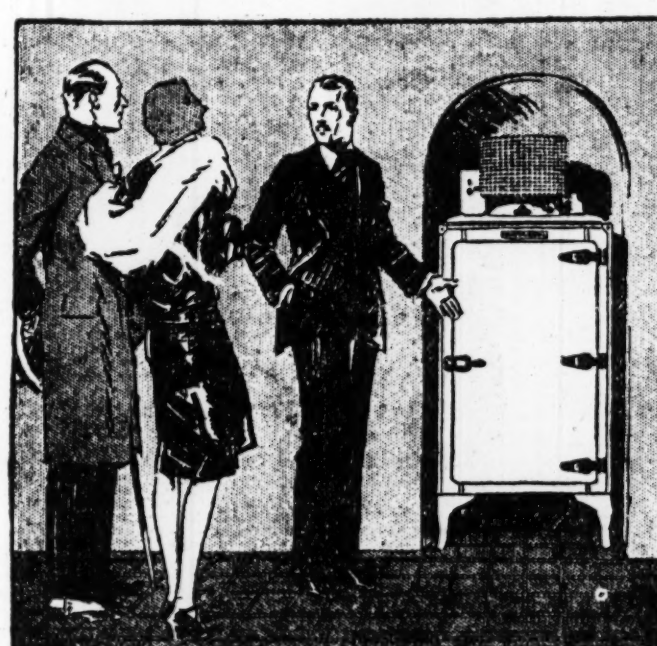

Trial of the suit consumed all of Thursday in Judge Pomerooy's court and will not be concluded until this morning.

G. M. A. DESIGNATED AS "HONOR SCHOOL" BY GOVERNMENT

The United States war department notified officials of the Georgia Military academy Thursday that the school again had been placed on the list of "honor schools" of the country. The message was received by radiogram at Fort McPherson.

Georgia Military academy has for five years been designated by the war department as an "honor school," being one of only 14 so designated last year in the United States. Captain C. M. McQuarrie, of the United States army, was officer in charge of military science and tactics during the past year, while Captain W. R. Brewster, a graduate of West Point, was the post commandant.

THIS is by way of being a challenge to you! Come in and see the new General Electric Refrigerators. Let us explain how they are designed and constructed and tell you about their advantages. Mark the use of the word explain. We promise not to do more than this—to let the General Electric Refrigerator do all the selling that is done. If you buy—and the chances are, we warn you, that you will—it will be because you have seen this wonderful automatic electric refrigerator and are convinced that it is right . . . and the refrigerator itself will do the convincing.

Let us be the interpreters only for the General Electric Refrigerators. They are practically silent, you know—so quiet that even keen ears can barely hear them when standing close beside them!

We do want you to come in and see this new refrigerator. That is the only way you can fully appreciate how liberal our offer is—the only way you can fully appreciate the worth of these "refrigerators of the future." We will show you the hermetically sealed mechanism so that you will understand why a General Electric Refrigerator never even needs oiling. We will point out its safe-like construction that prevents warping. You can adjust for yourself the Temperature Control on top of the cabinet—set it for quick freezing of desserts, then turn it back to standard safety refrigeration.

After you have inspected the various models, asked about the prices and found out how reasonable are the monthly payments due to the long time over which they are spread, you will be ready to make your decision. You will be the judge—you will consider the economy of operation, bearing in mind the low new electric rates; you will balance against the cost a life-time of safe, sanitary, automatic refrigeration.

Without urging or the least bit of pressure, with a clear understanding that your visit obligates you in no way at all—you will, we venture to state, decide that only by having a General Electric Refrigerator in your own kitchen can you be completely satisfied. And what a wonderful satisfaction it is to know that you are the owner of a General Electric Refrigerator!

Come in and see it—at your earliest opportunity. This sale closes soon, and then these terms will have to be withdrawn.

TWO YOUTHS GIVEN TERMS ON GAN'G FOR MOTOR THEFT

Alton Jackson and Walter Dempsey Thursday were sentenced to 18 months and 10 months, respectively, on the chain gang when they entered a plea of guilty to the theft of a motor car owned by Councilman H. H. Locher. They also admitted stealing a motor car owned by Miss Myrtle Roberts, of 173 Fair street, N. E.

In pronouncing sentence upon the two youths Superior Court Judge Virlyn B. Moore denied an appeal for probation, remarking that after the two had had a "taste of hard labor and a few corns on their hands" they would not be so anxious to get into trouble.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON

Atlanta spot cotton closed firm, 5 points up at 19.00; sales 500; receipts 265; shipments 7; stock 16.66.

NEW YORK, June 6.—(P)—

Rather sharp rallies followed an early decline in the cotton market today on prospects for unsettled weather in the south and reports of a steeper tone in grain and stocks. October contracts sold up from 18.67 to 18.90 or 22 points net higher. The advance attracted a good deal of realizing, and there were reactions in the late trading. October closed at 18.92 with the general market closing barely steady at net gains of 5 to 8 points. The market moved steadily at about unchanged prices to a decline of 10 points in response to the rather steady showing of Liverpool and a favorable view of the early weather reports. More encouraging crop reports from the Mississippi valley also seemed to have some influence, but after showing net declines of about 10 to 11 points, the market firmed up on the prospects for showers in the south, and reports of rains in Texas and Oklahoma. Western and Wall Street buying developed on the advance, and after some irregularity during the middle of the day, active months sold 13 to 22 points above yesterday's closing quotations. July, which had sold off to 18.50, advanced to 18.70, while December sold 18.82 to 19.00, and its demand. The buying then tapered off and closing prices showed reactions of 8 to 17 points from the best under realizing the turnover in cotton. The buying then tapered off and closing prices showed reactions of 8 to 17 points from the best under realizing the turnover in cotton. The buying then tapered off and closing prices showed reactions of 8 to 17 points from the best under realizing the turnover in cotton.

HOUSEHOLD COTTON

Household cotton was relatively quiet, but an increased demand was encountered around 10 for July, which helped to check the early decline. Further switching was reported from July to later deliveries with July selling 17 points under the early decline. Further switching was reported from July to later deliveries with July selling 17 points under the early decline.

PRIVATE COTTON

Private cotton was relatively quiet, but an increased demand was encountered around 10 for July, which helped to check the early decline. Further switching was reported from July to later deliveries with July selling 17 points under the early decline.

COTTON ADVANCES

New Orleans, June 6.—(P)—Selling on indifferent Liverpool cables and considerable profit-taking were absorbed by good western and Wall Street buying in the cotton market today and after a slight initial decline. The initial decline extended to 18.67 for July, 18.60 for October and 18.71 for December, or 5 to 8 points net down. Continued favorable weather in the belt overnight added to the early weakness.

OFFERINGS

Offerings were absorbed at the set-back and the market started upward under a demand stimulated by prospects for early enactment of the farm relief bill and a sharp advance in grain which brought out good western and Wall Street buying. July and October recovered to 18.85, and December 18.95, or 18 to 25 points above the lows.

THE HIGHER PRICES ATTRACTED

The higher prices attracted the usual profit taking which carried values off 11 to 13 points but in late trading the market recovered, and the higher prices attracted the usual profit taking which carried values off 11 to 13 points but in late trading the market recovered.

TECH COMMENCEMENT IS FEATURED BY SENIOR HOP

President and Mrs. Brittain To Give Tea This Afternoon

Outstanding among the social affairs featuring the commencement program of the Georgia School of Technology, will be the annual reception this afternoon at which President M. L. Brittain and Mrs. Brittain will entertain the guests with the three hundred members of the senior class. Receiving the guests with Dr. and Mrs. Brittain will be the chief executive, Governor Hardman, and Mrs. Hardman, Dean W. Vernon Skiles and Mrs. Skiles and a group of popular young belles of the college set of society, including Misses Helena Callaway, Marion Wolfe, Josephine Crawford, Billie Johnson, Louise Moore, Jane King, Ruth Miller, Mary Phillips Orme, Sarah Sharpe, Frances Barnett, Charlie Harmon and Harriet Wynne.

The tea table in the dining room will be beautifully appointed in the Tech colors of gold and white, the floral decorations featuring daisies and snapdragons.

Assisting Dr. and Mrs. Brittain in entertaining will be their daughters, Mrs. Spann Milner and Mrs. McDonald Brittain.

The calling hours are from five to seven o'clock, and the parents of the seniors who are in the city to attend commencement are invited to the reception.

Senior Hop

The second of the series of brilliant commencement dances, the senior hop, will take place this evening in the Tech gymnasium, with a number of breakfasts to be given at the fraternity houses following the event. Jan Garber and his thirteen-piece orchestra will render the music for the dancing and a large number of popular visiting belles will add interest to the occasion. Two of the most popular members of the senior class, Frank Waddy and Robert Durant, with two young ladies, will lead the hop.

Junior Prom

Inaugurating the gay program of festivities was the junior prom held last evening in the gymnasium, several hundred members of the college contingent assembling for the occasion. Supper was served at midnight on the lawn adjoining the gymnasium, where tables, topped with colorful striped umbrellas, seats and swings were attractively arranged. Hundreds of electric lanterns covered with zesty tinted shades enhanced the effectiveness of the pretty scene.

The figures were led by Miss Mary Meador Goldsmith and Miss Susan Broyles, dancing with Charles Whitman and Dutch Faust.

A group of prominent members of the married contingent of society acted as chaperones and included Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Brittain, Dean and Mrs. Vernon Skiles, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Chip Robert, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Perkerson, Mr. and Mrs. John Lillard, Mrs. Charles S. Northon, Mrs. Bernard Wolff and Mrs. F. B. Eckford.

Lovely Visitors

Are Honored.

Honoring Mrs. Edward Barrons, of New York, the guest of Mrs. Arthur Burdett, Mrs. Thomas Strickland entertained Thursday at her home on Wakefield drive. In the afternoon Mrs. Barron shared honors with Mrs. Karl Nisternheim, of Savannah, the guest of Mrs. J. Edwin Kerr, at the tea at which Mrs. Ernest Osburn entertained at the East Lake Country Club.

Miss Murphy Is Honor Guest at Series of Parties

Miss Elizabeth Murphy, whose marriage to Arthur L. Craw will be an event of June 12, is being entertained at a number of pre-nuptial parties.

Honoring this attractive bride-elect, Mrs. Frank McCormack will be hostess at a luncheon today at the Biltmore, honoring Miss Elizabeth Murphy, a bride-elect.

Miss Ruth Greene will be hostess at a bridge-party at her home on East avenue, honoring Miss Maude Thurmond, a bride-elect.

Miss Martha Buchanan will entertain at a bridge-tea at her home, honoring Miss Marion Koonce, a bride-elect.

Miss Thomasine Vickers will be hostess at a bridge-tea honoring Miss Sarah Williamson, a bride-elect.

Mrs. Frank Cochran will entertain at a party complimenting Mrs. Stephen D. Beers and Mrs. William Crossley, the guests of Mrs. H. W. Beers.

Mrs. Bauer Honors Boys' High P.T.A.

Mrs. Henry Bauer, president of Boys' High P.T.A., was hostess Tuesday at a tea, honoring the members of the executive board. An informal discussion of plans pertaining to the boys' high was held by Mrs. William Kingdon, first vice president. At a suggestion from Mrs. Bauer the board agreed to hold quarterly program meetings of the association during the next fiscal year and monthly executive board meetings; the first regular program meeting to be in July. The following committee was appointed to revise the by-laws of the association: Mrs. E. D. McDonald, Mrs. George Price, Mrs. W. L. McCall, Jr., and Mrs. William Kingdon.

Mrs. Kingdon, representing the association as chairman of transportation during the N. E. convention, requested parents of Boys' High who have cars available for use during the convention to communicate with her as there will be a demand for 100 cars June 29. Mrs. Ed Pierce is chairman of the flower committee, Mrs. Frank Baker, fruit; Mrs. W. L. Schell, informants, and Mrs. R. L. Stephens, hospitality. Mrs. Philip Essig told of eight graduates of Boys' High having been presented with letters from the association as an expression of pride in the excellent marks made during their three years in the school.

An interesting feature of the gathering was the display of the scrapbook compiled by Mrs. J. H. McMillan, which portrayed the splendid activities of the past year. H. O. Smith, principal; E. L. Floyd, assistant principal, and Paul Rosser, of the faculty, were special guests. The officers of Boys' High Association are: President, Mrs. Henry Bauer; first vice president, Mrs. William Kingdon; second vice president, Mrs. Murray Howard; third vice president, Mrs. George Price; fourth vice president, Mrs. Toy Collier; recording secretary, Mrs. John Hancock; treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Schell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. L. McCall, Jr.; auditor, Paul Rosser.

Clarkston P-T. A. Closes Successful Year

Under the efficient leadership of Miss Sadie Ray, Clarkston P-T. A. activities and accomplishments stand out greater than ever before in the local history of the organization. The grammar school has been put on the A No. 1 accredited list. Congratulations on the systematic way this has been accomplished in the past two months, have been received from state and county authorities. The grammar and high school rank third in the fifth district, only losing second by one point. Emily Ray, who won the expression contest and high school first place in spelling, individual spelling, and Margaret Brand, who also won second place in state.

The U. D. C. essay contest is the greatest literary achievement of Clarkston county, this has been our school for three consecutive years, this year by Dorothy Brand in grammar school and by Frances McLendon in high school. The district essay contest was won by Margaret Brand, when a comparison is made, considering the side of our school, and those we compete with, we marvel at the outstanding ability of almost every individual child. Under the children's reading department, National Book week was observed, also the School Music Club, under the direction of Griffith School of Music, gave a concert for the Clarkston book exposition held at Rich's.

Plans are under way for summer reading clubs. State library commission and Carnegie library are asked to cooperate. Pre-school circle held monthly meetings, report three health clinics, including a visit of the state health nurse. The school up started, one clinic held, finding children in excellent condition, with a few exceptions.

A nucleus of 63 volumes were contributed to the grammar school library by the local Mary E. Bryan branch of the Woman's Civic Club, more than a hundred volumes contributed by school children and the P-T. A. purchased 200 books to complete the book shelves and library efficiency. The highest standards are in operation by Mrs. Thompson, our lunch room supervisor, supplying rich, pure milk and hot, nutritious foods. The sum of $400 raised and spent on stage equipment in high school auditorium. School grounds were re-sodded and shrubbery cared for during year.

Account of overflow in first grade, an assistant teacher was furnished for first semester. The services of Miss Mary Brown, new teacher, has been given to the school by the organization, also attendance prize given monthly to the rooms having the largest number of mothers present.

Interesting daddy's night held, with County Superintendent Rainey as speaker of the evening. The president, vice president, secretary and treasurer have been the embodiment of efficiency, as well as the teachers and membership at large. The following officers were elected: Mrs. A. P. Milam, president; Mrs. Ernest Williams, first vice president; Mrs. Ed. Walden, secretary; Mrs. P. M. McRever, treasurer.

In the Olden Days in England

Possession of Sterling Silver was considered better than bonds and mortgages. Possession of solid silver in those days stood for what it stands for today... love of the beautiful; appreciation of the refinement of living; social position; prestige; culture. Moreover, those English gentlemen of that early date were practical.

They knew that silver—solid silver—was an investment that would not have to be remade from year to year.

Give the June Bride Sterling for her wedding gift. The years, let them lengthen out as they may, will only make your discernment the more pronounced. A Jewelry Store of distinction gives distinction to your gift.

BENSON F. TIGNER, 96, DIES AT PLANTATION

Father of J. Hope Tigner Was
Pioneer of Meriwether County.

Benson F. Tigner, veteran of General Hood's campaign in and around Atlanta and the father of J. Hope Tigner, of Madison drive, died early Thursday morning at his plantation home near Chiles, in Meriwether county.

Mr. Tigner, who was born in the first house built in Meriwether county, was 96 years old, the oldest citizen of his county and perhaps its most widely known resident.

In 1857 Mr. Tigner settled on his plantation near Durand, where he has resided continuously save for his absence in the service of the Confederacy.

Many Atlantans and prominent Georgians have enjoyed the old southern hospitality of his plantation home. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt was a frequent visitor to Mr. Tigner's home and both he and the governor had a warm affection for the other.

Mr. Tigner was a prominent leader in his church, and was trustee and steward in Trinity Methodist church and the old Warm Springs camp ground for 50 years, and superintendent of the local Sunday school 30 years. He was active in all civic developments of his community and county. He was a Mason, a member of the local lodge.

Mr. Tigner is survived by two sons, J. Hope Tigner, of Atlanta; Dr. Ed A. Tigner, of Milledgeville; three daughters, Mrs. N. V. Bodie, of Chiles, and Misses Carrie and Julia Tigner, of Meriwether, White Sulphur Springs.

The funeral will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the Trinity Methodist church at Durand and the burial this afternoon in the Tigner family cemetery near that place.

TATE TO 'MARK TIME' UNTIL SENATE MEETS

New Chairman Will Study
System Pending Confirmation of Appointment.

Until his appointment as chairman of the state highway board is confirmed by the state senate at its approaching session Colonel Sam Tate, of Tate, Ga., will pursue a policy of "marking time," he announced Thursday and while awaiting such confirmation he will make a study of the entire highway system with a view toward making changes which would bring about an economical administration of the department's affairs.

"In Rome Friday I shall visit the district office of the department to find out what that office is doing," he said. "Later I shall go to Gainesville and Griffin and other division headquarters. After I have completed this study I shall endeavor, in co-operation with the other two members of the board, to operate on a business basis. I am in no way criticizing the men who have preceded me, as I feel they did as good a job as possible under the conditions. I am simply taking up where Chairman John Holder left off and shall give my best efforts toward running this office just as I would my own business."

"I realize, of course, that I cannot make my own way of running things apply to this job in every particular," the chairman said, "but I intend to put every bit of system I can into the operation of the department, eliminating unnecessary overhead, centralizing control of expenditures and purchases and otherwise reorganizing so that I will be familiar with the particulars of every transaction."

A MAN WAS STANDING ON OUR LANDING TODAY. HE HAD A SACK IN HIS HAND. HE TOLD US HE WOULD GIVE US A QUARTER IF WE WOULD TAKE THE SACK AND THROW IT IN THE MIDDLE OF THE RIVER. WE SAID WE WOULD.

WHEN THE MAN WAS GONE, WE PUT THE SACK IN MY CANOE. "LET'S SEE WHAT IS IN IT," SAID OUR CAPTAIN. "I OPENED THE SACK! 'GEE WHIZ!' I SAID. 'JUST WHAT WE WANT! THREE CATS!' I DUMPED 'EM ON THE LANDING."

THEY LOOKED LIKE THEY WERE DEAD. BILL DABBY SAID, "THEY'RE DEAD! THROW 'EM IN THE RIVER!" OUR CAPTAIN SAID, "WAIT A WHILE, YOU CAN'T TELL HOW MANY TIMES THESE CATS HAVE BEEN DEAD! IF IT'S LESS THAN NINE TIMES, WE HAVE A CHANCE!"

THEY'LL CATCH THOSE RATS FOR YOU, BILL! "YEAH, THEY'LL EITHER SO THAT OR GO HUNGRY!" WE TOOK THE STRINGS OFF THEIR NECKS, AND SURE ENOUGH! THOSE CATS CAME TO LIVING AGAIN. POOR THINGS, THEY LOOKED HUNGRY ENOUGH TO EAT EACH OTHER. I TOLD BILL DABBY TO TAKE 'EM HOME. WHICH HE DID.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

MRS. ROBIN IS SURE WELCOME IS CRAZY.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

Could you yourself but truly see, A stranger would before you be.

—Old Mother Nature.

Welcome Robin couldn't get that stranger off his mind. He hadn't intended to go back to that window in Farmer Brown's house, but he couldn't keep away from there. No sooner had he picked up a few worms than he flew straight over to that window to see if the stranger was still there. As he approached the window he discovered the stranger also approaching it from the inside. Apparently he had come back to see if Welcome Robin was around.

Welcome flew at that pane of glass furiously. So did the stranger. They did their utmost to get at each other through that glass. They beat against it with their wings. They pecked at it with their bills. Welcome could never hear the other hit the glass, because he always hit it just when Welcome did.

Mrs. Robin, returning to the nest she was building, discovered Welcome apparently fighting nothing over the window sill of Farmer Brown's house. "What are you doing?" she called sharply.

WAR VET SENTENCED

Marshall Given 2 Years for Threatening Bureau Head.

Thompson Marshall, a disabled veteran of the World War, Thursday was sentenced to two years' imprisonment by Superior Court Judge Virlyn R. Moore when he entered a plea of guilty to having sent threatening letters to Harry Wallerstein, regional attorney for the United States veterans' bureau.

In entering his plea Marshall said he believed that Mr. Wallerstein had not been exerting all his influence to obtain for him medical assistance he said he needed.

Officials of the veterans' bureau told the judge they would make an effort to have Marshall admitted to a hospital. Judge Moore ordered that in the event physicians for the veterans' bureau saw fit to send Marshall to a hospital the sentence would be suspended.

"Taking Some Lunch" To Group at Still Is Costly to Ingram

The comparatively innocent act of "taking some lunch" to a group of alleged distillers proved rather disastrous to G. C. Ingram, of Fairburn, since it resulted in his arrest as a part of the group. He was placed under bond of $500 following a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Griffith Thursday.

Officers testified that he was just as busy at the still as any of the others but the defendant stoutly maintained that his presence at that particular spot could be explained by the fact that he had merely gone there to take the boys a little light lunch at the request of one "Slim."

Efforts to establish the identity of "Slim" were relatively unsuccessful since Ingram described him as weighing between 100 and 200 pounds, stating that he was dressed in a coat and a pair of pants and that while he did not have a mustache he could not say whether he was clean shaven or not.

A. B. & C. TRAFFIC MEN IN CONVENTION HERE

Following a tour of the road's properties and inspection of the Brunswick terminals, traffic men of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Coast railroad are holding a convention at the Henry Grady hotel that will continue through today.

C. B. Kealhofer, freight traffic manager, is presiding, and Thursday speakers included Colonel B. L. Buzz, president, and J. L. Edwards, vice president. Business reports and plans for agricultural and industrial development along the line are being discussed.

THE GUMPS—THEN AND NOW

THE UNKISSSED BRIDE
By BERTA RUCK

SYNOPSIS. Joy Harrison, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers in Harley street, is crushed by a letter from her fiancé, Geoffrey Ford, a well-known novelist, asking to be released from the engagement. Preoccupied with her own trouble she fails to notice that Dr. Travers seems troubled. Towards the end of the day he tells her that he has just lost a great deal of money through an unscrupulous solicitor and he will be forced to give up his home in Harley street.

Dr. Travers, a partner, tells Rex that he has just been offered a practice with a comfortable villa in the south of France which he cannot take on, and he suggests that he recommend Rex for it. The only hitch in the plan is that they want a married doctor and Rex is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new post Rex turns a deaf ear.

Joy, who has been listening to the doctor's colloquy, suddenly sees a method of escape for her and also Dr. Travers. If he will marry her on a business arrangement, the doctor is stumped by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him that she is in need of another job, although her real reason is to have Geoffrey read of her engagement to another man.

The doctor broods over the change his altered circumstances will have on his nephew and ward, Percival Arthur Fitzroy. Finally he decides to take Joy at her word and they enter into an agreement to marry on a strictly business basis. Immediately after the ceremony, Rex, Joy, and Percival Arthur go to the south of France. Joy enjoys keeping the secret, but Percival Arthur has the time of his life. The boy fails to show up for lunch or dinner, one day, and Travers and Joy are frantic with worry.

INSTALLMENT XXXV.
NIGHTS.

Joy's eyes, blank with musing misery, met through the gleam of the big dog's opening eyes. Lament, wolf like, they brought a reminder of this morning, only this morning! Joy seemed to hear the echo of that boyish treble, chanting histrionically, chanting playfully: "Blood, blood he found on every side. But nowhere found his child!"

A shudder ran through Joy's whole body. With a swift blind movement she shifted backwards in the long chair. Its top caught in something that was hidden behind one of those Ali Baba terra cotta jars on the stone ledge; a cardboard box containing spare parts of one of Percival Arthur's model engines.

It fell over with an unearthly clatter on to the balcony tiles, and Rex Travers jumped where he stood. "Damn," he let out. "Must you make a row like that?"

The instant afterwards: "My dear! I say! I'm sorry; all this has made me so jumpy I don't know what I'm saying. Mad sorry I flung out at you like that. I beg your pardon, Joy."

"So don't! It's all right; I'm sorry I made you jump. It's all right!" Joy answered him. She held out her hand.

He took it.

It was then that the touch of her small hand in his spoke for the first time kindly to him. It seemed to say: "Listen. I could be friendly now. If you still wish it, I could be friendly."

To which his strong clasp replied: "God knows I wish it. Let's be friends, Joy!" Standing beside her, he held that small soft hand in his until, involuntarily, it made a tiny movement, when he at once let it go.

Then, dropping into the chair beside hers, he sighed as though something were released in him, and spoke: "The boy, you see, is all one has. One's excuse for being here... one's incentive... everything."

"I know. As from the man anxiety had gone out, catching her into its radius, so now there went out from her wave after wave of utter womanly sympathy. She was so sorry for him. She recognized how he suffered, and oh, but she was sorry! That feeling pervaded the night as did the scent of aromatic dewy foliage from the garden, the scent of tobacco plants, the night flowering stock. Came Rex Travers' voice, "You're fond of him too, my dear."

"But, my dear! Of course I am!"

"He's devoted to you. Do you know this is the first time I've stopped wishing to God his people had been here to take a hand in bringing the kid up? Poor Madge! (My sister, you know.) She's missing this bit of it. Worried like this is supposed to be harder on a mother."

"It is harder on a mother," Joy said, softly, convinced. "It's much worse."

He looked down at the pale crumple she made there in her dark corner, bending forward to collect the scattered spare parts from the tiles. It was in his mind to say, "Child, how do you know?" He said, "Well, but the feeling a man has about a son is He broke off sharply. "Telephone."

'Atlanta First,' Says New Owner of Cracker Baseball Club, Who Hints Some Senator Players Will Be Sent Here Soon; Griffith Planning Scouting Trip July 1 To Aid Both Teams

NEW CRACKER HEAD LIKELY TO BRING AID

Joe Engel, Club President, Will Arrive in Atlanta Tuesday.

By Ed Danforth.
Joe Engel, president of the new Cracker organization, will arrive in Atlanta Tuesday preparatory to taking charge of the club for Clark Griffith, the new owner, on the evening of June 15.

Advices to The Constitution from Washington Thursday evening were that no decision had been reached as to whether Engel would bring replacements with him Tuesday or whether they would be sent at a later date.

R. J. Spiller, who sold the Crackers to the Washington club president last Wednesday, said that he believed Engel would bring players with him. While there was no assertion to that effect at the sale meeting, the Cracker owner thought that was the plan.

In discussing the club, the new owners did not discuss what players they would replace. They did indicate, however, that two infielders, two pitchers and two outfielders would be needed.

CLARK GRIFFITH.

Clark Griffith and his associates were well convinced that the purchase of the Cracker franchise at the relatively large figure of $650,000 would not be a wise move unless they put a one-two-three ball club in the field.

All their calculations were based on what the club would draw if up there fighting for the pennant. And they bought on that basis.

Mr. Griffith told The Constitution that. He advanced it as proof that his promise of putting a winning team in Atlanta was not the usual flowery declaration of the new purchaser of a baseball franchise.

"We cannot afford to send a lot of Class B ball players and worn-out veterans down here to Atlanta," he said. "We would sink with that investment hanging over us. Atlanta opened our eyes. It is a city of vast possibilities as a baseball center. Atlanta has a larger percentage of citizens whose work is such that they can get away in the afternoon for a ball game than any city I know of."

"Pennants are not won every year. We found that out at Washington. But Atlanta can have a club up there every year in the top flight of the race."

Rebuilding Is Due.

The Cracker purchaser would not hazard any guesses as to which of the present Crackers would be removed to make room for new troops.

He did say he was delighted with the play of Nick Cullop, Dick Burros, Frank Haley, Al Lopez, Johnny Jones. Perhaps the Washington folks liked others, but they did not amplify their statements.

Whatever changes will be made will be made speedily. Cutting down time in the majors is June 15 and on the afternoon of June 14 the Washington folks will take over the Crackers. Indications are that by that date a revamped Cracker team will take the field.

Boys' High Defi.

The following note comes from W. H. Davis, Boys' High tennis coach:

"This being the open season for challenges, I should like to issue one in behalf of the Boys' High tennis team. Our record for the season is as follows: Southern Interscholastic Singles Championship and semi-finalists in doubles in the tournament held at the McCallie school; Atlanta City Prep championship in both singles and doubles."

"We have also won every team match, with one exception, and that match was lost to Tech High in the early part of the season. The latter team has refused to give us a return match. We are ready to meet them at any time and any place for the state team title. Darlington, claimant of the southern title, was defeated by Boys' High three matches to two, the sixth being halting darkness with the score tied. We defeated Baylor, winner of the Southern Interscholastic doubles, four to two, and McCallie five to one. We feel that our claim is the most valid and shall be glad to settle the issue on the courts with any rival claimant of the southern title."

"Thanking you for giving our team this publicity, I am Yours truly,
"W. H. DAVIS,
Coach Boys' High Tennis Team."

Another Long Count.

"It seems that the count really was 3-and-2 on the Cracker sale instead of 4-and-1, as one of the Atlanta morning papers stated gleefully," writes a lovable, crotchety golf writer in one of the afternoon papers.

Wrong again, old timer! Now you KNOW it could not have taken all day to get over that last strike.

Perhaps with the count 3-and-2 early in the morning, it used to take the Kansas City Blues all day to get anywhere. But not in this case of the lively baseball and Babe Ruth.

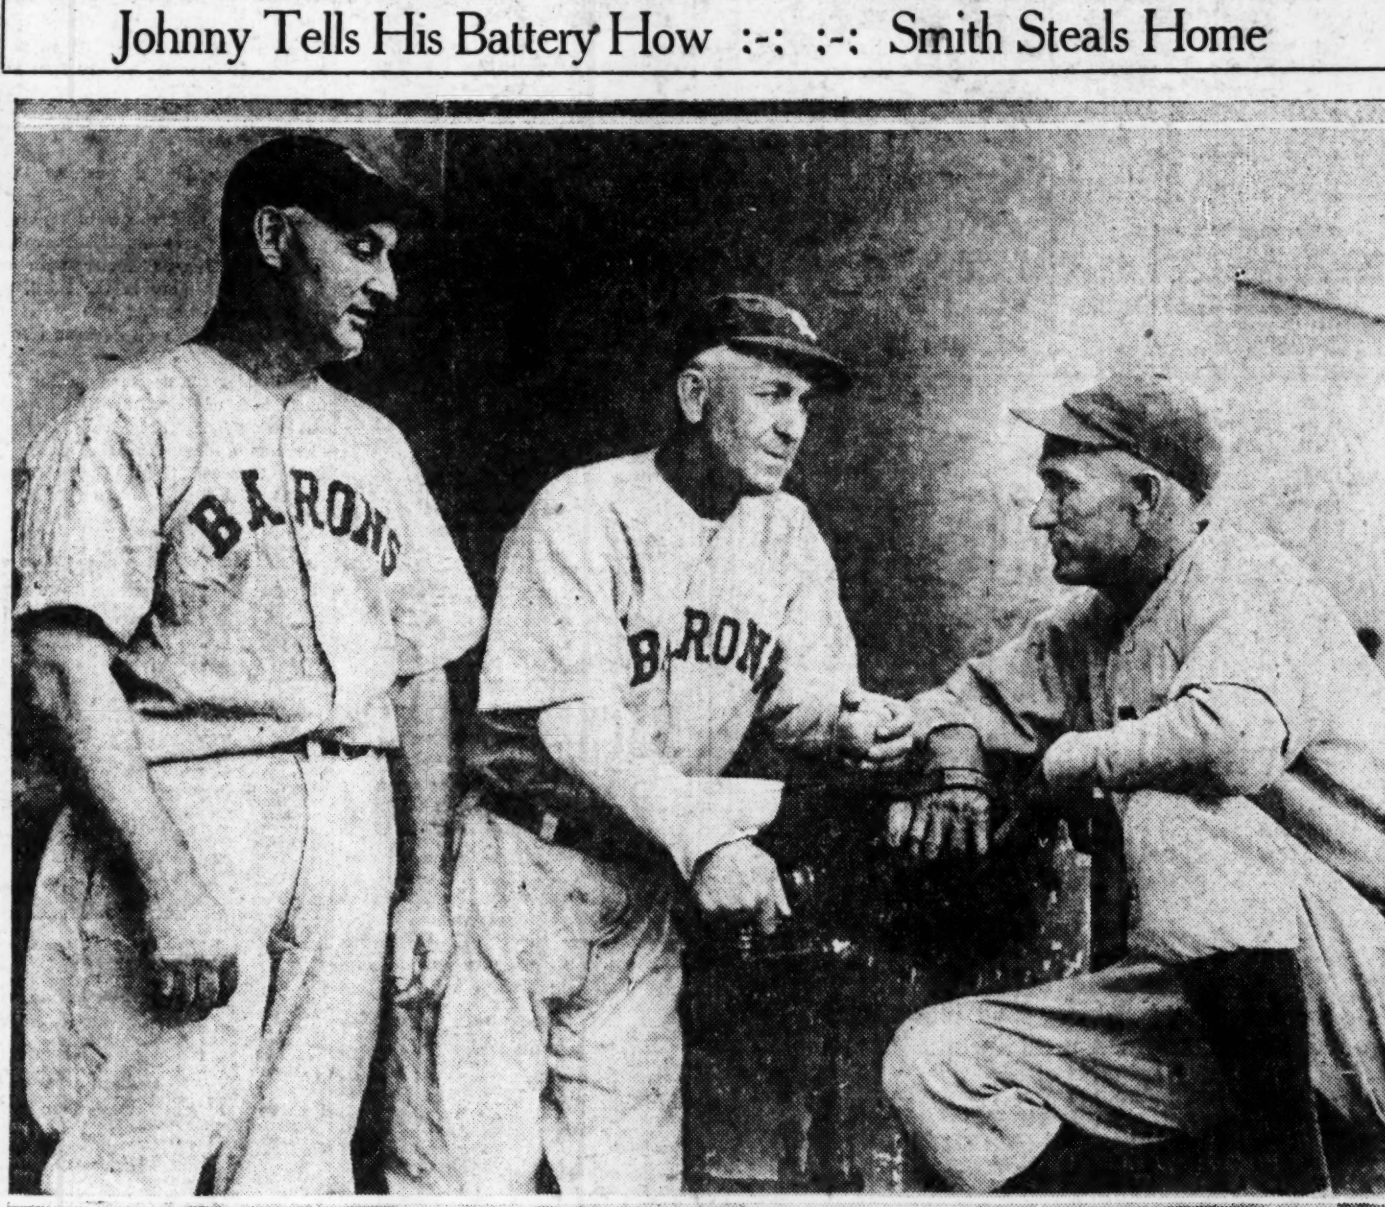

I like people who write with a knowing air about any subject at all, whether they are the least bit informed or not. That's why I never miss reading after the lovable, crotchety golf writer on the afternoon paper. And he is never more entertaining than when he ventures over into the field in which he was once so closely identified, baseball.

Okeechobee Yields Record Black Bass

Okeechobee, Fla., June 6.—(AP)—A record-sized black bass, weighing 16 1/4 pounds, was caught in Lake Okeechobee today near Pahokee with hook and line.

Ed Danforth

Before the Birmingham-Atlanta game Thursday afternoon Johnny Dobbbs, Baron manager, got Slim Love and Yam Yaryan together and talked it over. Love held the Cracker for four runs while his mates hampered in 10. Photo at top shows Dobbbs giving his battery the low-down on the Cracker batters. It must have been good. Below is Ernie Smith stealing home in the first inning. Smith and Clabaugh worked a beautiful double steal.

GEORGIA STARS IN TRACK MEET

Alexander and Stegeman Accompany Entries to Chicago Trials.

Three University of Georgia track men, under expert care, left yesterday afternoon for Chicago, where they will join the class of the track athletes of the nation in an assault on records in the eighth annual intercollegiate track and field meet sponsored by the University of Chicago on Stagg field.

Bob Young, Buck Anderson, and Sandy Sanford are the leaders who will attempt to shatter existing marks. They were accompanied by Coach Stegeman, of the University of Georgia, and Coach Alexander, of Georgia Tech.

Young, one of the best distance men ever turned out in the south, will face the barrier in the one-mile run, and will find himself opposed to the leading milers of the country. He is conceded an outside chance to win the event and should place well.

Anderson will hurl the javelin. His best mark to date in competition was 110 feet.

Sale of Crackers Progressive Step

Other Cities May Be Critical But That Is Expected—Means Better Baseball.

By Ralph McGill.
Atlanta may stand by now and await the expected reaction over the league to the sale of the baseball franchise to the Washington management. Most of it will be unfavorable. Naturally, which will disturb the Cracker city not at all. So far as I can see the city has been jarring loose from antiquated systems in most everything, leaving the others to like it or not.

An alliance with Washington will mean better baseball for Atlanta. There is no reason at all why the deal should not have been consummated. There may be expected a certain amount of caterwauling from some sources and a lot of halderdash written about the breaking up of a purely southern-owned organization. In the end it will remain essentially that.

Mr. Zipp Newman, with whom I have suffered on numerous occasions, is already suffering about the invasion of the Southern league by the chain-store system.

"Putting the Atlanta club in the chain-store system won't help baseball in the Southern league. And it will take away a personal touch that Atlanta fans have enjoyed since baseball was introduced here."

REIGH COUNT FINALLY WINS

American Horse Dashes Home First in Coronation Cup Stake.

Epsom, Eng., June 6.—(AP)—After three disappointing races on English turf, Reigh Count brought joy to his owner, Mrs. John D. Hertz, and all America today by winning the Coronation cup stake in a thrilling finish on picturesque Epsom Downs.

Traveling the mile and a half in 2:38, two-fifths of a second less time than Trigo needed in winning the derby yesterday, the American colt eased out a short head victory over Athford, brother of the derby winner and bearer of the colors of the same owner, William Barrett, of Ireland.

CHEERS GREET COLT.

A wild burst of cheering greeted the American colt in his return to the unsaddled enclosure led by Trainer Mitchell. Mrs. Hertz was unable to get down from the grandstand in time to lead her horse back to the judge's stand.

Sharing honors with the pride of America was Joe Childs, veteran English jockey, who replaced Chick Lang, rider of Reigh Count since he won the Kentucky Derby last year. Experts were loud in their praise of the well-planned race made by Childs, who rides for King George. He rode a waiting race, holding his mount back in last place on the uphill climb and then timed his challenge perfectly as the field swept around Tattenham corner into the downhill stretch of one-half mile.

THE FINAL DASH.
A furlong from the finish Athford shot into the lead, closely followed by Reigh Count, Plantago and Cyclone. The American colt and Plantago collided, but Reigh Count quickly recovered his balance and moved up even with the Barnett color bearer. The two came down the incline neck and neck, but in the final burst of speed Reigh Count was just a little the better. Plantago finished third.

Reigh Count was quoted at 10 to 1; Athford 9 to 4, and Plantago at 5 to 1. All three of the leading horses carried 125 pounds.

His victory not only gave Mrs. Hertz possession of the gold cup valued at 2,000 pounds (about $1,000) and the purse of 1,000 pounds (about $500), but qualified the American four-year-old for the much more important Ascot gold cup to be run June 20.

There are many former Washingtonians in Atlanta who are likely to become more ardent Cracker fans now that the club is owned by the capital's big league representative. Not so long ago the Southern railway transferred thousands of its employees from Washington to the Georgia capital and these new Atlantans will feel they are looking at an old home-town club when they watch the Crackers hereafter.

CRACKERS WRITE.
Here's an extract from a letter President Griffith received from J. C. Beam, a Southern railway official in Atlanta:

"The Southern Railway company has five thousand loyal employees in Atlanta who will make a most successful of your new venture. I congratulate you on securing the Atlanta franchise. Many former Washingtonians here hope to see you manifest more interest in our new city."

CRONIN TO REPORT

Philadelphia, June 6.—(AP)—Jimmy Cronin, infielder now with the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league, will join the Philadelphia Athletics probably late next week. He comes here in a trade whereby Joe Hassler, of the Athletics, goes to Portland. It is understood that Portland also receives some cash.

CRACKERS HOPE TO

Cracker officials tried ineffectually last night to obtain some word from Wilbert Robinson, of the Brooklyn club, as to whether he intended recalling Al Lopez or Bull Hatcher. If so the Crackers would have signed Garland Buckeye, the big southpaw pitcher. Further effort will be made today. E. J. Spiller, having announced that he got no word last night, if Buckeye is signed he will pitch the final Baron game today.

Washington Must Reduce Its Squad Within Ten Days

Baseball Writers in Capital Say Players Will Be Sent Here Shortly—Atlanta Sends Congratulations to Owner.

By Denman Thompson.
Washington, June 6.—(Special)—Although the Atlanta ball club does not actually pass into the possession of the Washington ball club until a week from tomorrow, Clark Griffith, president of the latter organization, already is making plans to strengthen the Southern association Crackers as well as his big league Nationals. The Washington executive has announced he will embark upon a scouting tour as soon as his Nationals start their three-week trip to New York and the western sector on July 1 and that he hopes to pick up promising talent for both clubs now under Washington control.

Griffith also has hinted that some players now wearing National uniforms may be shifted to the Atlanta club shortly.

There are on the Nationals' roster 27 players, now that Howard Cates, a young pitcher, is signed after the payment of $750 to the Baltimore International for his release. This roster must be reduced to 25 players or less by June 15, according to major league law. Griffith very likely will send some of the surplus talent to the Crackers.

FOUR TO GO.
As many as four players may be cut loose by Washington. Any draftees sent out very likely would go back to the clubs from which they were procured last fall, for those minor clubs, under the baseball code, would have first call on such players.

There are others than draftees now with the Nationals, however, who seem in need of further schooling before they may be considered well equipped for service in the big show, particularly some pitchers. The Crackers may get one or two young hurlers from the club here under option.

WANTS NO CRACKERS.
There is little likelihood, though, that any of the present crop of Atlanta players will be transferred to the Washington club, according to Griffith. The local press says the Crackers right now have nothing the Nationals could use. In fact, Griffith seems bent on strengthening the minor league aggregation before he begins to look upon it as a "farm" for Washington.

"Atlanta first," is the way the local baseball executive puts it. "I am determined to give the fans there a square deal in every way and will do that as it is possible to give them an up-and-coming ball club. It's a good baseball town and deserves a fine representative in the Southern association."

TO HELP NATS.
But Griffith does not intend to overlook the possibilities for helping the Nationals that lie in the possession of the Atlanta club. He feels that it will become a fine school for players the Nationals may want, but who may not be ripe enough for immediate employment in the big time. Ownership of the Atlanta club will assure the training of prospective Nationals, according to plans formulated by the Washington club. In this way Griffith hopes to bring to the Nationals the best of the Atlanta club when it is in the future recruits who really have been taught the finer points of baseball instead of half-baked talent that is common to many of the teams foisting upon the big outfits in recent years.

This is not to be done, though, at the expense of the Atlanta club, Griffith insists. He first intends to build a strong minor club then graduate to his major club players reckoned good enough for trial in a higher class. In promoting players, Griffith intends to avoid stripping the minor club of the greater part of its power. He plans to have well-qualified replacements for all moved from the Crackers to the Nationals. In every town the Washington-owned Atlanta club is to be conducted as a first-rate minor league organization.

JOE ENGEL.
Joe Engel, scout of the Washington club, is to be president of the Atlanta club for the remainder of this year, at least, Griffith announces, but Joe is not to relinquish his scouting duties. He will continue to scout for the Crackers as well as the Nationals, too. The Washington press declares the executive job doesn't keep one so busy that one can't delve into the minors for material. And Griffith ought to know. He's been a club president for some years.

There are many former Washingtonians in Atlanta who are likely to become more ardent Cracker fans now that the club is owned by the capital's big league representative. Not so long ago the Southern railway transferred thousands of its employees from Washington to the Georgia capital and these new Atlantans will feel they are looking at an old home-town club when they watch the Crackers hereafter.

BARONS ROUT CRACKERS, 10-4

Winning Streak of Four Straight Games Meets
Abrupt End.

By Ralph McGill.
That Cracker winning streak, that had grown to four straight games, got lost in a traffic jam Thursday afternoon at Spiller field and ended abruptly.

So many Barons crossed the platter that the Cracker defense in the ball game. Slim Love, the old man who was pottering around with the baseball in the Southern league near 20 years ago, tried to get the ball on the hill and stopped the Crackers enough to win in a breeze.

SOME HITS.
Comparisons are tedious, but this one is too obvious to be missed. The Crackers made eleven base hits. The Barons made an equal number. There was, however, no such similarity in the total of runs. Those two columns in the box score explain, to a large extent, why the Barons are up there around the sky-light in the John D. Martin circuit and why the Crackers are just a jump or so ahead of the Lookouts, who are in last place.

The Barons have no great ball club when it comes to individuality. Collectively, however, it manages to play a pretty good game of baseball. They have better hitters and, what is more important, they have better pitchers. They have the punch in the pinch and they hustle to win the ball game.

EARLY LEAD.
Still, a lot of the local baseball thinkers would like to see the Barons playing behind. They jumped on Red Oldham and started after two innings. He gave up five runs and as many hits in that time. Bull Rauch, the property of Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, tried, but he was no better than a four-run lead in the initial inning.

Three Cracker pitchers tried. Red Oldham was relieved after two innings. He gave up five runs and as many hits in that time. Bull Rauch, the property of Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, tried, but he was no better than a four-run lead in the initial inning.

TOTAL BASES EVEN.
To make that little matter of eleven hits for each team, two runs for one and ten for another all the more incongruous, there is the

Case Says He Made No Charge

Chicago, June 6.—(AP)—Expected revelations regarding recruiting of athletes by Big Ten conference schools failed to materialize at a conference here tonight between Everett Case, athletic director of the Frankfort (Ind.) High school and Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner.

After a two-hour closed conference Major Griffith announced that Case had "made no charges against Purdue or anyone else."

Case said he came to Chicago to learn who had "linked his name with the Iowa case," rather than to accuse any Big Ten school of athletic irregularities.

Halverstadt Defeats Beaver at East Lake for Junior Net Title

BOYNTON WINS BOYS' SINGLES AT EAST LAKE

Winners and Runners-Up Eligible for National Tourney at Culver.

By Welch Jordan.
Jimmie Halverstadt, of Atlanta, and star of the Dartington academy team, won the singles in the junior division of the Atlanta center tennis tournament by defeating J. L. Beaver, Riverside academy No. 1, in four sets Thursday morning, 6-3, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4, at East Lake courts.

Halverstadt and Lafferty won the junior doubles from Bill Reeves and Beaver, while George Boynton swamped Billy Glenn for the singles title of the boys' division, and Boynton and Cheshire won the boys' doubles from Jack Morris and Wesley Martin in straight sets.

The winners of the tournament and the runners-up are eligible to enter the national junior and boys' tournament to be held at Culver, Ind., in the latter part of the summer. Some of these young Georgia stars already certainly place high in the national meet. Medals will be awarded the winners and runners-up in the local tournament by the national association.

In winning his way to the finals, Halverstadt walked rough-shod over all competition, beating Harrison, Bridges, Allen and Powell in easy sets. In the final affair, however, he ran into some good tennis, and was forced to exert himself in every set in order to win. J. L. Beaver, his opponent, played consistent tennis, although in the first set Halverstadt's brilliant net play dazzled him into submission, 6-3. In the next set Beaver came through with a 7-5 victory, but the fourth set was tight in every game, Halverstadt winning, 6-4.

Because a man on each of the junior doubles, Halverstadt and Lafferty dropped the first set, 4-6, but in the next two Lafferty's shots gained more accuracy, and Beaver seemed to tire. Halverstadt and Lafferty winning, 7-5, 6-3. Bill Reeves was not quite up to par, but his serve was always good for one game, using a lightning fast swing that sent the ball sizzling to the opponent's court.

Adams and Allen and Powell and Brewster fell before the onslaught of Halverstadt and Lafferty in their march to the finals of the junior doubles.

The boys' singles was a walk-away for Boynton, the young U. S. B. tennis prodigy. He trounced Billy Glenn, 6-0, 6-1, never having to work hard for the games. Glenn was slightly off his accustomed form, that his ways carried him far in local boys' tournaments. Boynton beat Ray and Cheshire on the way to the finals.

Cheshire and Boynton had to play only one team in order to advance to the finals of the boys' doubles, and they severely trimmed Berman and Rainwater. In the final match they took the first set easily from Jack Morris and Wesley Martin, 6-1. In the second set they had some difficulty, but finally won, 8-6.

Halverstadt and Boynton seemed to win everything in sight in their respective divisions. Both of them were on the winning doubles team and each one won a championship in the singles. Boynton, who is only 14 years old, shows promise of being a great star when he grows up. At present he handily trounces some of the best prep netmen in the south, going to the quarter-finals of the junior meet, before he was eliminated.

Sandlot Teams Meet Tonight

There will be a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock of all the members of the American Legion sandlot baseball team in the council room of the Y. M. C. A. The purpose of this meeting is to arrange schedules for the twelve teams already entered in the pennant race to decide Atlanta's entry in the state contest, and to admit several new teams that have signified their intention of joining the league. Major Trammell Scott, chairman of the league, urges that all teams who wish to enter the league have representatives at the meeting tonight. The opening games of the loop will start Wednesday, June 12, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

CRACKER SALE GOOD MOVE

became a major sport in Georgia, says Friend Zipp, one of the first to get his reaction in the state contest, and to admit several new teams that have signified their intention of joining the league. Major Trammell Scott, chairman of the league, urges that all teams who wish to enter the league have representatives at the meeting tonight. The opening games of the loop will start Wednesday, June 12, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Griffith made it clear that he is not seeking any more minor league clubs. He was after one and it took him two years to get the one he wanted. He selected the best baseball city in the minor leagues. He knew that two years ago. That's why he wouldn't give up until he got the Cracker.

And I am deeply hurt at Zipp. In fact, I am almost tempted to say, "Zipp, how could you?"

If the Washington club hadn't helped the Barons so much in the past two years it might be possible for the Cracker to argue that their own Cracker will not help the local cause.

The Senators will promptly lose all interest in the Birmingham Barons. John Dobbins must look elsewhere after this season for his winter purchases. While this reporter will admit to a desire to take off the old fella, toss back the aging cranium and yelp whenever "Dixie" is played, he has long been an admirer of Yankee efficiency in some lines of human endeavor, or so long as they are not connected with anything culinary.

The Atlanta baseball club, with efficient business methods, and with a major league connection wherein there is genuine interest, should flourish like a green bay tree and not be cut down at all. The position of the Senators is the American league will have no bearing on the club in the Southern league. The sale was a very decided, progressive one.

There will be some enterprising and some holderness. It all means, however, that in a few years the boys will capitulate and enter in the baseball's big business or make their permanent bed in the second division and be content to lie in it.

LAWSON, WALKER FIGHT TONIGHT

Stellar Card Will Support Colored Heavyweight Title Bout.

For the third time since January, the colored heavyweight championship of the world hangs in the balance, and tonight Bob Lawson, present titleholder, and "One Punch" Al Walker, New York pugilist, will bring their city auditorium to decide whether the crown will be taken for a ride back east or remain in the south for a while longer.

The bout is being staged under the auspices of Matchmaker Cleve Roby, who has lined up a good preliminary program to back up the main attraction. A battle royal, bringing together a dozen young husky colored boys, will open the show promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Sandwiched in between the battle royal and feature bout are three six and one four-rounders, and a surprise bout. In addition to all that, Matchmaker Roby has secured the Atlanta Mail Carriers' band, consisting of 30 pieces, to furnish music throughout the program.

Walker holds victories over some of the country's outstanding boxers, most outstanding of which is his decision he gained over Johnny Risko, the Barker Boy. Lawson also has beaten several headline fighters, but none as far advanced in the game as Risko, says Walker.

The preliminary bouts are as follows: Milton Wright, 184, vs. Charlie King, 180, six rounds.
Charles Booker, 184, vs. Clyde Glover, 185, six rounds.
Bob Hunter, 171, vs. Kid Coleman, 172, six rounds.
Sam Jones, 205, vs. Bearcat Obit, 220, four rounds.

Grinnell Loses To A. J. T., 8-3

Grinnell's baseball team, of the City League, suffered its first defeat at the hands of the Atlanta Joint Terminals baseball team, 8 to 3. Lewis, on the mound and got along fairly well until the Terminals' heavy artillery got into action and he was forced to retire in the fifth inning.

Ford, pitching for the Terminals boys, was never in danger, having the situation well in hand at all times. John Coker, who trained with the Atlanta Crackers this spring, starred for the Terminals, besides turning in some flashy fielding, he connected for a triple, double and single in four trips up.

Barron Will Aid In Devising New Hurdle

Jacket Track Mentor Elected to Coaches Association, Hurdle Committee.

By Ben Cothran.
Hal Barron, Tech's track coach and the man who, more than anyone else, put Ed Hamm in a position to jump close to 26 feet, is back in the city from a trip to Philadelphia and the I. C. A. A. track and field championships which were held last Friday and Saturday.

Coach Barron, along with Harry Bettelman, of Dartmouth and Earl Thompson, of the Navy, are to consider ways and means of devising a new hurdle and make their report at the next meeting of the association, which will be held in December.

This hurdle proposition is something quite complicated and you attempt to explain it, and the situation has come to a point where it is rather acute and something must be done about it. The present-day hurdle, when tripped or knocked over, has a pernicious habit of causing devastating damage to athletes coming along behind. From what Coach Barron said, I gathered that the committee will attempt to devise a hurdle that when knocked over will lie flat upon the ground and leave nothing sticking up in the air to cause one to stumble and fall.

Last year, at the Olympic trials, a knocked-down hurdle, I am told, worked to the disadvantage of Weems Baskin, Auburn star, and is one reason why he didn't qualify.

The coaches are also making another step that in all probability will be toward one that is more conservative, but more in line with the new idea. But most of them were for it.

The starting block, which is nothing but a block of wood set at an angle to brace the feet when crouching for a start in a sprint, will cut off a fraction of a second in running time, but it will cut off the feet of the runners. And the coaches don't believe that it will make any great difference.

Blocks for hands. Dink Templeton, youthful wizard of the track who coaches Stanford, expressed himself of the opinion that as long as they were going to use the starting block they should furnish blocks on which to rest the hands, as otherwise, when the runner's hands will be pushed down and might prove a hindrance in starting.

Use of the blocks will greatly speed up the progress of the boys, and the annual southern relays here. It does away with the necessity of digging holes and getting settled before each race. That is the main reason why the coaches endorsed the idea, said Barron. The elimination of the blocks will also make track surfaces smoother.

At a banquet held Friday night in Philadelphia Walter Christy, coach of the California team, suggested that the 1932 I. C. A. A. games be held in California. The Olympic games will be held in Los Angeles and Christy said that it is a chance for the California team to become accustomed to the California climate and tracks would greatly benefit those collegians of the land who will compete in the Olympic games. Mr. Christy added that people are so enthusiastic over track in California that the gate receipts would build down extra expense that would burden the eastern teams in their long trip.

The Stanford menace, which is taking its place these days along with the yellow peril, black plague and other scourges, is being given considerable thought and study by eastern coaches, whose victories in the I. C. A. A. have been very few in recent years.

A prominent eastern prep school coach told Barron that the best way to compete with Stanford was to quit specializing on the dashes and other track events and begin paying some attention to the bases who have tied the count in their half of the last frame.

Mitchell pitched good ball for the winners, striking six men and keeping out of danger except when errors hurt his cause.

Bowman, with two hits in two times at bat for a perfect record, took the laurels for stickwork.

In a seven-inning battle in which the lead changed hands in every inning but the fifth the Passenger Accounts defeated the Freight Accounts team of the Southern Railway loop by a 7-6 score.

The Passenger club outbait their opposition by a 12-8 margin, but their victory was hard-won. A sixth inning drive sent them into the lead, and they came back again in the seventh after the Freight averaged tied the count in their half of the last frame.

GOLFERS PLAN LEAGUE HERE

Meeting Is Scheduled at Ansley Park Tonight.

Representatives of six golf clubs will meet at the Ansley Park Country Club at 8 o'clock tonight to discuss plans for the formation of a league for competitive play.

C. L. MacDonald, secretary of the West End Club, is promoting the project, and has been in touch with the Marietta, Forest Hills, Newnan, and Griffin clubs, with the Ansley Park and West End clubs, are expected to form the loop.

For some time these clubs have competed with each other in independent matches and the rivalry has been very keen. Although the project will be a new one, it will not be impractical, as several other such leagues are playing in this section of the country. If the teams are banded together it will bring about more organized and interesting play among the clubs.

Ansley Park, West End, Forest Hills, and Marietta have already made known the fact that they would like to enter the league, but there is still some doubt as to whether Griffin and Newnan will become members of the association. However, it is indicated that these two teams will be interested in joining up with the other four.

There is some uncertainty as to how the organization of the league will be effected, but it is probable that the same general scheme of management that is being used in other golf leagues will be employed. At present three tentative plans of management have been proposed but none have been definitely accepted. The clubs will probably enter six, eight or ten-man teams, and the scoring will be conducted on the Nassau system.

The following representatives are expected at the meeting: Morgan McNeil, Jr., Marietta Club; Billy Powell, Newnan Country Club; Dan Y. Sage, Ansley Park Club; W. B. Griffin, Forest Hills, and the president of the Griffin Country Club.

BARONS WIN OVER CRACK

fact that the Crackers did an equal amount of long-distance hitting. The Cracker line-up got a home run, two triples and a double to run their total bases to 18. The Barons got a home run, a triple and two doubles for a like amount.

Al Lopez, the Brooklyn property, got the Cracker home run. There was no one on base when he got it. Dick Burris hit his triple with the bases all open and Shoshone came with the bases in that same condition.

Ernie Smith knocked his home run over the left field colored grandstand. Bill Blair, the former Vol, got a triple and Slim Love and Clabaugh contributed doubles to the Barons cause.

Arthur John Weiss, the league's leading hitter, got in a couple of singles. The Barons scored in six of the nine innings. Slim Love, with his big lead, coasted through. The big fellow was right. Love's curve ball was coming in with a lot of hook in it. It was a hard-hitting ball club getting good pitching. They usually win.

In truth to tell, the Crackers played a loose defensive game to aid the Barons cause. Five errors at critical time hurt the Cracker cause considerably.

Starting Blocks Get Official O.K.

Chicago, June 6.—(United News)—The National Collegiate Track and Field Association, at its annual meeting today, voted official sanction of foot starting blocks.

The committee decreed "that athletes be permitted to use rigid wooden foot-blocks without spring, that may be quickly placed."

It was decreed also that the use of hand blocks shall not be allowed, and that the use of tenth second watches should be encouraged.

GEORGIANS ENTER MEET

190.9 feet, qualifies him for the trial, and he is expected to put up a good fight.

Sanford, the slim sophomore, is a certain entrant in the high jump and may possibly enter the broad jump as well. He has cleared the bar well in meets this year, but will go against some of the best jumpers.

Chicago Meet Opens Today.

Chicago, June 6.—(AP)—Bent on winning new glories and sending marks into a tailspin, 332 athletic stars representing 79 universities and colleges in 28 states assembled tonight for the eighth annual national collegiate track and field meet.

It was the largest and brightest entry in the history of the meet, which will be decided on the University of Chicago's Stagg field tomorrow and Saturday. Eleven of the athletes were members of America's 1928 Olympic team.

On the basis past performances and team balance, the universities of Washington, Illinois, and Southern California were favorites to win the team title. Stanford was not considered because it had but three of its stars entered.

While every event carried threats of shattering national or world records, the duels for first places in the 100 and 220-yard dash events stood out.

Three other national marks, in the pole vault, discus throw and shot put, also seemed destined to fall.

Ga-Ala. League

LINDALE LOSER, 4-2.
Cedarstown, Ga., June 6.—Cedarstown won the opening game of the Ga-Ala. League here today, 4 to 2. Lindale scored two runs in the first inning and then Rainwater relieved White and pitched a beautiful game.

Griffith pitched splendidly until the eighth, when the locals climbed him for four hits and the ball game.

GADEEN WINS PAIR.
Gadsden, Ala., June 6.—Gadsden took a double-header from Talladega here Thursday, winning the opener, 4-3, and the nightcap, 3-1.

Both contests were hurling duels with almost errorless support, but the Rubber-nicks hit in the pinches to come through with the winning tallies.

Lamach and Turner were the hitting stars for the visitors in the first game, each getting three out of four trips, while Rosen and Puse hit twice each in three attempts.

In the nightcap the Indians went hitless except for Holbrook's smashing single in the sixth, while Sorrell with a triple and single each bringing in a run started at bat for the locals.

ANNISTON SWAMPED.
Anniston, Ala., June 6.—Carrollton militantly Anniston and won the first of a four-game series, 9 to 2, at Johnston field Thursday afternoon.

Carrollton's extra base hitting was a feature of the game, with Patton leading the list with a triple, two doubles and a single out of five trips to the plate.

Both teams scored runs in the first frame and the visitors broke the tie in the third and added to their amateur scoreless progress, leading Anniston scoreless during the remaining frames.

Atlanta.

Intimate glimpses into the home life of theatrical folk are afforded patrons of the Atlanta theater this week during the Atlanta-wide All-Star Play-off, production of "The Royal Family." This splendid play presents three generations of stage favorites in the feverish atmosphere that hovers about their apartment from morning to night. Miss Peggy Leonard, Miss Frances Woodbury and Miss Marian Grant appear in the principal female roles, with Harold Tucker in the part of the erratic and fascinating young man of the family.

Keith's Georgia.

"Alibi," the feature picture attraction at Keith's Georgia, is filled with drama. This Roland West masterpiece is all-talking and the cast is made up of stage and screen stars. Chester Morris, a former stage star, gives one of the best characterizations in the role of "Chick" Williams, the master gangster. The picture depicts the continual warfare between crooks and police. On the stage a bill of Keith vaudeville will entertain you.

Loew's Capitol.

"Hearts in Dixie," something decidedly out of the ordinary in motion pictures, is presented on the screen at Loew's Capitol, supplementing the stage bill of five acts of Loew vaudeville. It is a sound film in which are heard some of the old-time negro spirituals and chants sung by a trained chorus of colored singers. The story is simple but dramatic, dealing with life in the Mississippi delta. The stage show includes "Love in the Banks," a military musical and dancing turn featuring Edith Griffith, and four other selected vaudeville acts.

Rialto.

Olga Chekova, the Clara Bow and Greta Garbo of Europe, is making her debut on the American screen in "Moulin Rouge," now playing at the Rialto. This famous actress is acclaimed by all Paris and in her first picture has drawn wide praise from Americans. The story is laid in the background of the famous Red Mill theater in Paris and revolves about a stage celebrity whose two great loves are her work and daughter. Miss Chekova is supported by an excellent cast. Also on the program are a Vitaphone

Loew's Grand.

Dolores Costello and Conrad Nagel in "The Redemptive Sin," a melodrama of unusual type, is offered at Loew's Grand. It raises a question in the minds of the audience as to whether a certain woman of the underworld is a saint or a devil, and the action of the story offers the only solution to the situation. It is one of the best films in which these two stars have appeared.

Ponce de Leon.

Like "Skyscraper," "Power" is a great laugh-and-thrill entertainment; but unlike "Skyscraper," it is devoid of tears. There is surprise aplenty, also well-maintained suspense, vivid climaxes, and sudden let-downs to mirth. Manager Davis at the Ponce de Leon states this is one of his best bets of the month. Those small-town Don Juans—Boyd and Hale, never lose audience interest; the take-off is irresistible of their love technique, their stupendous egotism, their gusty passions, their bags of tricks and their simplicity.

Metropolitan.

"Blockade," the first talking picture effort of Anna Q. Nilson, is holding forth at the Metropolitan this week, and from all reports Miss Nilson is as good in a speaking role as she was in a silent one. She is said to eclipse even "Bonjo," her greatest success, through her work in "Blockade."

Cameo.

Bob Steele, the idol of thousands of clean-minded and energetic young men, comes to the Cameo today in his very newest picture, "Laughing at Death." Probably no action player in the history of the movies ever attained popularity quicker than Steele once he arrived at the star class. However, the secret of the success of this popular stunt star was hard work and careful training by his father from the time Steele was an infant.

Alamo No. 2.

"The Girl From Chicago," a Warner Bros. production, co-starring Conrad Nagel and Peggy Leonard, comes to the Alamo No. 2 theater today. This brilliant melodrama of the underworld is based on the story of Arthur Somers Roche and the scenario was executed by Graham Baker.

Empire.

Dorothy Mackall and Jack Mulhall, two noted stars of the screen, will be seen today at the Empire theater, corner Georgia avenue and Crew street, in "Man Crazy," said by critics to be one of the most solidly pleasing pictures to be produced by this pair. "Man Crazy" has a splendid vein of comedy in addition to a thread of light romance.

81 Theater.

"Ravin' to Go," one of the best colored shows on the road today, will be presented tonight at 81 Decatur street in a midnight frolic for white persons only. The show was presented Tuesday night in a special benefit for visiting police chiefs and parts of it will be given today at the regular weekly luncheon of the American Legion. An official stamp of approval was placed on the program by the visiting police chiefs. Doors will open at 11:30 o'clock.
